HITLER, MISTRESS ARE DECREED DEAD

MUNICH, Oct. 15.—(BUP)—The state of Bavaria officially decreed today that Adolf Hitler and his mistress, Eva Braun are dead.

A de-Nazification Tribunal meeting in Munich to decide the extent of Hitler's guilt as a Nazi found that he was a "major offender," and branded Eva Braun as a "Nazi profiteer."

But the court found, "there can be no doubt that both are dead."

Consequently, the state confiscated the remaining property of both Adolf and Eva, adding about $60,000 to the Bavarian treasury.

Clear Medical Now Darling's One Hope

Manning Says Alberta Can't Be Responsible for Seaman

For Kenneth Darling, British merchant seaman, and his Edmonton sweetheart, Eileen Newnham this will be the brightest or darkest day of their lives.

By sundown tonight in Winnipeg, they will know the result of a new medical examination which will either allow Darling to remain in Canada or force his deportation.

Because of conflicting reports and confusion surrounding Darling's medical history, the federal immigration department yielded to public demand that the 24-year-old seaman be re-examined.

Previously, Ottawa had decreed he could not enter this country unless the Alberta government would accept responsibility for his hospitalization. A British medical report had classified him as tuberclar and suffering from a heart ailment.

MANNING SAYS NO

Premier Manning declined to give the hospitalization assurance demanded by Ottawa. He told Pat Ashby, East Edmonton MP, who intervened on Darling's behalf: "Such a precedent would be unfair in the face of the hundreds of would-be British immigrants already refused admission because of poor health."

Belief that the medical examination will take place today is based on a telegram to The Bulletin from Edmonton's Eileen Newnham who joined her fiance Wednesday.

Said Eileen: "Arrangements made for Ken to have medical in Winnipeg by Friday at the latest."

Official confirmation of the new examination, but not the date, was received this morning from two sources.

A special despatch from Winnipeg quoted R. N. Munro, district superintendent of immigration as saying that Darling would be taken to the Manitoba capital "probably in a day or so."

TEMPORARY ADMISSION

Mr. Munro said he had been instructed to allow the man into Canada after consultation with Ottawa immigration officials, who have authorized the department of national health and welfare to handle the examination.

Second source was a wire from Resources Minister James A. MacKinnon at Ottawa to Pat Ashby, East Edmonton MP, which said:

Brrr! Cold, Light Snow

First major polar weather disturbance of the fall to reach this district hit Edmonton early Friday morning, spreading a light blanket of snow over the entire region.

The snowstorm swept in through Northern Alberta and stretched all the way to Lethbridge in the south.

Total amount of snow that fell during the night was only .01 of an inch, but the weatherman has forecast more snow today.

He says skies will be overcast and weather will be cold all day today. Snow flurries are expected from time to time throughout the day and winds will be 20 mph. until this evening.

The snowfall was preceded by a light rain about 6 p.m. Thursday.

Official forecast issued at 10 a.m. today by Dominion public weather office at Edmonton and valid until midnight Saturday follows:

Edmonton Region: Overcast today; variable cloudiness tonight and Saturday; snow flurries today ending about evening; winds northwest 20, decreasing to light ending about midnight; continuing cool; low tonight at Edmonton 20, high tomorrow 40.

CCL Chief Threatens Expulsion of Union

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—(CP)—A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, told the Communist-led United Electrical Workers today they'll be "thrown out" of the Congress if they don't change their tactics "damned soon."

Speaking after a UEW criticism of the CCL voting procedure, he said:

"Unless you change your tactics—and change them damned soon—whether you leave or not you'll be thrown out.

"We're not going to put up with the kind of tactics and philosophies you're giving us here."

It was the most straight-forward of three such ultimatums by Mr. Mosher this week and a direct reply to a pronouncement yesterday by Ross Russell of Toronto.

Mr. Russell, UEW director of organization, said: "The administration will never get this union to leave this Congress. We're staying —to fight red-baiting and to battle for the things labor wants."

MASS MEETING AS PROTEST

B.C. Law Society Ban On Alleged Red Fought

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Communism, holding front page play in newspapers across Canada, today has become a dynamic subject at the University of British Columbia.

It stems from the Red ban imposed by the B.C. Law Society which refused admittance to the bar of Gordon Martin of Nanaimo, B.C.

A graduate of the UBC and head of the now-defunct Communist Forum at the University, Martin refused to name his political affiliation to the benchers.

Now a controversy rages on the right of the Law Society to ban anyone because of political affiliations.

Sponsored by the UBC Civil Liberties Union, a campus mass meeting has been called for today to protest the ban.

Irresponsiveness of campus clubs will be speakers, and a resolution will be put to a vote censuring the society for refusing permission to a graduate in law "to practice law because of his political beliefs and affiliations."

It will urge that powers of the society be amended so political beliefs and affiliations will not prejudice a candidate's right to practice.

Refusal of the law society to admit Martin was based on the B.C. Professional Act, which permits decision for membership to be determined on the "apparent fitness" of applicants.

"Benchers have not the authority to inquire into mine or anyone else's politics," said Martin when told of his rejection.

He has been identified with activities of the Labor Progressive party—the Communist party in Canada. He was a party candidate in Vancouver-Point Grey constituency in the 1945 provincial election. He polled only 764 votes of a total of 98,000.

Labor has come to his defence. The Vancouver Trades and Labor Council (TCL) protested what it termed discrimination against a citizen because of his "political opinion."

Cabinet Tosses Rate Issue Back to Commissioners

By William Wilson

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—(CP) — Canada's controversial freight-rate issue is back in the lap of the Board of Transport Commissioners, from where it emerged last March in the form of a 21 per cent increase.

In a decision which appeared to partially meet provincial objections to the March boost, but failing short of being a clear-cut victory, the cabinet Friday instructed the six transport commissioners to:

1. Review the 21 per cent increase.

2. Consider provincial complaints and increased railway revenue from higher international and competitive freight rates.

3. Relate any revision of the March order to its decision on a subsequent application by the railways for an interim increase in rates of 15 per cent to be considered in January.

MANNING DISSATISFIED

Commenting on the cabinet decision, Premier Manning of Alberta described the order-in-council as "wholly unsatisfactory."

"The order just refers the points at issue to the same board which made the decision in the first place and endorsed it," said Mr. Manning.

Attorney General Gordon Wismer of British Columbia said the provinces have won a "partial victory" in their fight against increased freight rates. Premier McNair of New Brunswick said the order-in-council "confirmed in substantial measure" the position of seven provinces opposing freight rate increases.

The cabinet's instruction that "any revision" of the last increase should be made in conjunction with

SHE'S TO WED BUT HER NAME WON'T CHANGE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Miss Frances Mackey becomes Mrs. Francis Mackey at the Little Chapel of Lakeside here Saturday. And if you think that's funny—well, so did she. That's what started the romance.

Mrs. John G. Mackey of the Dalles, Ore., happened to see the name of Army flier Francis Mackey in a service paper during the war. He was stationed in North Africa. Amused, Mrs. Mackey sent the clipping to her daughter Frances Mackey, a Navy nurse in Hawaii.

Frances was amused, too. Francis and Frances began writing letters to each other.

After the war, they got a look at each other and eventually went shopping together—for a ring.

C of C Lauds Rate Review

Decision of the Dominion cabinet to order re-investigation of freight rates by the Board of Transport Commissioners, was lauded today by F. G. Winspear, president of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

SUPPORTED PROTEST

Local group has been active in supporting provincial objections to the Commissioners findings approving a 21 per cent freight rate increase.

Mr. Winspear said:

I have not yet had an opportunity of reading the complete text of the Order-in-Council. The Chamber of Commerce, however, is extremely gratified that the Dominion Cabinet finds itself in disagreement on one of the most important accounting fallacies contained in the order of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

What is more important in our view, however, is that the functions of the Cabinet as a court of last appeal can be regarded seriously and not taken as a mere matter of form.

GIVES NEW HOPE

The action taken indicates that in the future the findings of the Board of Transport Commissioners will be subject to careful review by the Cabinet, suggesting a new era of freight fate regulation and control.

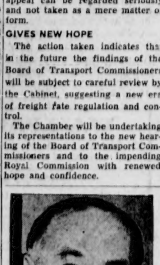
The Chamber will be undertaking its representations to the new hearing of the Board of Transport Commissioners and to the impending Royal Commission with renewed hope and confidence.

Russ Gunfire Shakes Berlin

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—(BUP)—Russian artillery and anti-aircraft fire rattled windows in the American sector of Berlin today as Soviet army carried out manoeuvres nearby in this blockaded city.

Correspondents visiting the area of Zehlendorf, in the southwest part of the American sector and only a few miles from Gatow airfield in the British sector, heard the steady "clump-clump" of artillery fire and the more rapid rattle of anti-aircraft guns.

American intelligence officers said the firing came from Russian war manoeuvres in the Soviet zone close to the border of the British sector of Berlin.



EMPIRE-FAMED statesman and publisher, Lord Beaverbrook will visit Edmonton next Thursday. The Canadian-born "Beaver" will be here for one day en route to Calgary where he once lived.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Douglas and Donald Perreault and Noel Cloutier were held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury today for the slaying of two Montreal constables in a bank holdup here Sept. 23.

The three are expected to appear before Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure in court of king's bench later today under a preferred indictment, where they will be formally charged.

Terrorists Blamed For Ship Sinking

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(Reuters)—London Daily Mail in its main front-page story today reports that officers of Scotland Yard's special branch believe that the Star Tiger, British airliner lost without trace in the Atlantic nine months ago, was destroyed by a parcel bomb posted by Jewish Terrorist agents.

Vishinsky Plays Same Old Record

Stops His Doodling Just Long Enough To Blame West

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Andrei Vishinsky broke his Kremlin-imposed silence in the Security Council today and renewed his charge that the Berlin question arose because the western powers violated agreements with Russia.

Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, acting council chairman, asked the four big powers for details on the Aug. 30 agreement between Prime Minister Stalin and western diplomats and for the instructions given the four military governors of Germany to implement the accord.

WAS TO LIFT BLOCKADE

Under the agreement, Russia was to lift the blockade and the western powers were to recognize the Soviet mark as the sole currency for Berlin.

The British, American and French delegates said they were willing to answer Bramuglia's questions at the next council meeting on Berlin.

Vishinsky then rose and declared the Argentine's questions were a "very skilful" manoeuvre to divert the Soviet delegation into the Berlin debate.

Vishinsky said he would not "swallow this bait." Vishinsky who came to the council with a full staff of assistants and made doodles during the first part of the meeting, went on: It is naive to believe the Soviet Union will swallow this bait . . . No question, we will not. We see no reason why the Security Council should burden itself with new details and material."

McNAUGHTON HEARD

Earlier Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of Canada acted as first spokesman for the six lesser powers—the "neutrals"—on the council in appealing to the Big Four to settle the blockade by direct negotiation.

McNaughton said that the "neutral" countries have no intention of drafting a resolution or attempting mediation in the Berlin crisis.

Air Force Reveals Winter Strength

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The United States' air defence in Alaska this winter apparently will consist only of five bombers and one group of about 75 fighters.

Down at the other side of the American defence perimeter—the Panama Canal zone—there presently is no organized air combat unit.

MISSIONS TO ROTATE

This came to light today in connection with an air force announcement that three five-plane flights of the new B-50 bombers will rotate on training missions in Alaska between Nov. 1 and March 15. Under this program, only five of the bombers will be in the area at any one time.

The only other combat unit in the polar frontier sector is the fighter group regularly stationed there.

However, air defence planning is based on the idea that both fighters and bombers could be flown to Alaska quickly if a sudden military menace ,develops.

FIRST OUTSIDE U.S.

The forthcoming missions of the B-50s will be the first such bombers have made in organized units to any point outside the United States.

The B-50 is a radically-changed version of the wartime B-29. It has a top speed of 400 miles an hour, a 10-ton bomb capacity and, the air force says, can reach targets "over 2,300 miles" from the takeoff point.

While the B-50s have been in use by the air force for several months they never have been flown under Arctic conditions. This, said the air force, is the purpose of the training missions to Alaska.

Canada Defence Mainly Fighters

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Canada's peacetime air defence plans are mainly concentrated on interceptor units, it was stated today.

Officials offered no direct Canadian comparison with a Washington dispatch which said the United States air defence in Alaska this winter would consist only of five bombers and one group of about 75 fighters.

However, it was recalled that Defence Minister Claxton, in discussing air defence estimates earlier this year, said that although Canada was not neglecting bombers, it was felt the Dominion's greatest contribution in the event of a war on this continent would be in the interceptor field.

Canada has purchased 85 vampire jet fighters from the United States and these are believed to form the basis for her interceptor units. Bombers available to the RCAF would consist mainly of Canadian-built Lancasters.

U.S. Rejects Red Scheme To Cut Arms

PARIS, Oct. 15—(BUP)—The United States flatly rejected Russia's disarmament proposal today, declaring it was "totally unacceptable" until the Soviet Union "opens and raises its iron curtain" and withdraws its fifth columns "all over the world."

United States delegate J. M. Osborn told a subcommittee of the UN political committee that the Russian plan to cut armaments of the Big Five nations by one-third was an "absurdity" and "deliberately framed to confuse the public."

Rejection of Russia's disarmament proposal was made known as the western powers prepared to renew their attack on Russia's Berlin blockade in the Security Council. All indications were that the bitter Berlin debate would continue for a full week.

Earlier, the political committee heard Dr. Ralph Bunche, acting Palestine mediator, call on the United Nations to demand a firm peace in the Holy Land because "there is a desire for peace on both sides."

French Stage Sit-In Strike

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(AP)—One hundred Renault auto workers barricaded themselves inside the Georges Irat factory today and refused to leave.

The workers kept the plant manager as a hostage and welded the factory doors shut.

The Communist-led Confederation General du Travail asked other metal workers in the region to begin sympathy strikes and organize a sit-in inside the auto plant to resist arrest.

In Paris, taxicab drivers ended a week-long strike and went back to work today after being granted fare increases of about 33 per cent.

New Rebellion in TLC Over Reds Is Reported

By John Leblanc

VICTORIA, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Conflicting reports of a new rebellion over the Communist issue in the Trades and Labor Congress were heard today at the TLC's annual convention.

Sources close to the anti-red faction led by Frank Hall of the Brotherhood of Railway and Steamship Clerks, said high Canadian officers of some TLC international unions were considering breaking from the Congress unless it stiffened its attitude towards Communism in unions.

Besides re-electing Bengough and a full slate of officers backed by him, the convention yesterday:

1. Demanded the return of price controls on essential goods and re-imposition of a 100-per-cent excess profits tax.

2. Criticized the Canada Shipping Act as "a resolution and heard it denounced as "iniquitous" and "monstrous."

3. Went on record as opposing the removal of rent controls.

4. Called for lower income tax in the small wage brackets.

5. Partially endorsed the federal labor code as "a step in the right direction."

6. Chose Calgary as the 1949 convention city over Montreal and Saskatoon.

Firm Stand by West Will Stop Russia, Clay Declares

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay feels "Soviet expansion will not only be halted, it will recede," if the western powers continue their firm stand in Berlin.

The remarks by the United States commander in Germany were in a speech made public last night by a responsible source close to Clay. The speech was made privately Sept. 28 to delegates of the British Parliamentary conference who visited Berlin.

Clay said lasting peace in Europe could be attained if the western powers refuse to yield to the Russians. He said the rise of democratic forces and economic recovery in western Europe would create pressure against Soviet domination in the satellite countries.

He linked the rise of democracy in western Europe directly with the maintenance of the western powers' position in Berlin.

"We must be firm," he said. "By continuing this air lift indefinitely and maintaining our position in Berlin we will have assured people who do want freedom they will not be abandoned."

Discussing the Soviet blockade of Berlin, Clay said the western powers tried to buy food from Poland and Czechoslovakia for the besieged former German capital, but were blocked by Russia.

"This was a definite indication the blockade was placed into effect as a starvation measure . . . to drive the allies out of Berlin," he said.

A government source disclosed that four men, believed to be former Nazi collaborators from France, have been permitted to remain in Canada by special cabinet order-in-council. It is said the decision to allow the four—Dr. Georges Benoit Montel, Dr. Andre Boussat, Julien Lebedein and Jean Louis Huc—was reached after strong pressure was brought.

CCL Reds Lose On Major Issues

Anti-Communist President Mosher's Re-Election Seen

By George Ronald

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—(CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor got set today to wind up its "clean-out-the-Communists" convention.

Whipped unmercifully on every major issue at the five-day eighth annual get-together, reddish elements are huddling in a bloody-but-unbowed minority.

It was expected they'd be heard from again before the curtain was rung down this afternoon—probably during the election of officers. But most of the 850 delegates, representing 360,000 workers, were betting that president A. R. Mosher and his anti-Communist executive would be decisively re-elected.

TWO BODY-BLOWS

Communism went down under two more powerful body-blows yesterday. Over Communist opposition, the Congress:

1. Re-affirmed its support of the CCF as the "political arm of labor."

2. Promised full support of the International Woodworkers of America and said some harsh things about the Woodworkers Industrial Union, formed early this month by an IWA break-away faction.

"Up to now, we've given you a good deal of leeway. But don't expect it to continue."

ATTACK LABOR CODE

Earlier, the convention said it favors a program to elect "the largest possible number of CCF members" to the next parliament and the provincial legislatures At the same time it criticized the federal labor code.

The congress also:

1. Asked retention of rent controls.

2. Instructed the congress executive to seek co-operation with the Trades and Labor Congress in "national matters" affecting workers.

3. Urged an immigration policy helping European displaced persons but having "due regard for the needs of the Canadian economy as a whole."

4. Urged peacetime expansion of the ship-building industry.

Rail Rate Issue Is Tossed Back

the subsequent application appeared to mean that the 21 per cent jump would, in effect, stand. Scaling it downward would apparently take the form of disallowing or reducing the application for another 15 per cent.

The railways have applied for a 20 per cent increase in rates in addition to the March raise allowed them. The application for 15 per cent is merely an interim request until the permanent one is considered.

ARGUMENTS IMPRESS

The cabinet stated in its order-in-council that the arguments of the provinces dealing with the basis of the March award had favorably impressed them. The essence of the provincial contention was that the board should have made the railways draw on non-railway earnings to meet fixed charges, income taxes and dividends and that these could not properly be regarded as a charge solely against railway operations.

The appeal by the seven provinces—Quebec and Ontario did not join—was heard three weeks ago. Earlier the cabinet had, in response to provincial objections to the March award, ordered a full inquiry into freight rate structures by the transport board and announced that it would appoint a Royal Commission to study transport problems generally.

Darling Pins Hope On Medical

porary admission to Canada in charge of our immigration officials to enable us to get a new, independent, complete health checkup."

Informed by long-distance telephone to Emerson Thursday afternoon, Darling excitedly greeted news that he could go to Winnipeg for the medical examination.

"That's the best news I've had since I left England," he said, adding that he was "definitely certain" the new X-ray would produce a clear plate.

COUPLE REUNITED

Wednesday night, the veteran was reunited with the object of his long voyage, Eileen Newnham, pretty 26-year-old Edmonton fashion clerk, who was emigrated from England last March with her family.

Accompanied by her mother, Eileen was met in Winnipeg and driven to Emerson where the engaged couple met for the first time in nearly six months.

Mrs. Newnham said she and her husband had "more or less adopted" the seaman in England four years ago, and were anxious for him to join them in Edmonton. Her husband, a former RAF officer stationed in Canada during the war, brought his family to settle in the dominion last spring.

At Ottawa, Dr. H. L. Keenleyside, deputy minister of mines and resources, said four examinations in England by immigration doctors in the last six months had shown traces of tuberculosis.

In the lobby of the Gateway hotel at Emerson, Darling told the story which led up to his 12-day vigil in the small border town.

A former truck driver with the British Army in Italy, he returned to England in 1944, where he met Eileen at a party in the home of a mutual friend. When the war was over, he joined the merchant marine as a steward on the Queen Mary. An orphan, Darling spent his leaves with the Newnham family in their suburban London home.

When the Newnhams flew to Canada last spring, Darling was invited to join them and settle in Edmonton. Through the Canadian National Railways office in London, he arranged for a job in the Dominion and applied for papers.

"But honesty didn't pay off," he told reporters. "During the war I'd had a mild case of tuberculosis which was cured when I was discharged. I took both the old X-ray plate showing the tuberculosis and a new one showing a clear plate to the immigration doctors. They told me I couldn't qualify for admission. If I'd just taken the latest plate, they'd have passed me without any trouble."

Heintzman ALBUM OF THE Week
Romeo and Juliet
(overture fantasie)
by
Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky
This lovely music, so rich in the best that Tchaikovsky ever gave to his world-wide audience, was inspired by Shakespeare's deathless tragedy. While there is no detailed "program" or story outlined in the music, there are unmistakable intimations of the high dramatic moments, fine clashing of purpose, the idyllic and passionate love, the grim catharsis, that appear in Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet. Indeed, Tchaikovsky frankly suspended to his title the deferential and perhaps dangerous note, "after Shakespeare." Here is a truly poignant and moving drama that will be enjoyed by all music lovers.
Listen to Heintzman's "Musical Masterpieces" 2:30 to 3:00 p.m. Sunday over CJCA when "Romeo and Juliet" will be played.

Battle Arranged For Wainwright

Lord Strathcona's Horse, PPCLIs to Participate

The sounds of battle will echo through Wainwright Army camp next week.

Western Army Command today announced that the biggest training battle in Western Canada since the end of the war, will start Monday morning and continue until midafternoon Wednesday. It will be known as "Exercise Caltalo."

The exercise will involve about 500 men of Lord Strathcona's Horse and Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry and about 50 personnel from headquarters, Western Command.

DAYS AND NIGHTS

Soldiers will spend nights as well as days in the field where they will also sleep and eat.

The exercise will be directed by Major-Gen. M.H.S. Penhale, general officer commanding, Western Command.

Lt.-Col. A. G. Chubb, commanding officer of Lord Strathcona's Horse, will command the infantry units and Capt. W. Stutt the unit from Western Command headquarters.

Regular field weapons will be used,including big tanks and live ammunition in certain battles.

PLANS ARE MADE

Plans for the advance of the infantry unit have already been made. It will first run into opposition after about six or seven miles in a southerly direction from the camp. It expects to wipe out this opposition and continue its advance until it runs into further opposition.

During the night its camp will be attacked and the next day, on Tuesday, will come the big advance. Tuesday night will be spent with various groups carrying out a night shooting program in an effort to cripple the enemy.

Major battle will follow Wednesday morning with two units making an assault at two different places. This is when the live ammunition will be used.

Changes Proposed In Library Board

City Council may be asked to select members of Edmonton Public Library Board from certain groups.

At a regular meeting Wednesday night, Forest Heights Home and School Association adopted a resolution to request that board members be selected from named groups or organizations.

The Forest Heights group proposes that the board members consist of representatives of Junior Chamber of Commerce, Home and School Association, Federation of Community Leagues, Women's Institute, Alberta Teachers' Association and City Council.

The proposal will be discussed at the next meeting of Central Council of Home and School Association and if it is adopted, will be presented to City Council.

Various other business reports were discussed and a talk was given by Charles Simmons, president of Federation of Community Leagues and a director of Edmonton Safety Council. He spoke on the safety in schools, the home and general safety rules.

Story Leads To Return Of 15 Bibles

Conscience-stricken deputy returning officeers in Vegreville constituency returned 15 missing Bibles to the returning officer after reading a Bulletin story last week that hundreds of the Good Books were missing.

E. S. SUNLEY

Sunley Heads Electricians

E. S. Sunley was re-elected president of the Edmonton Electrical Association at the annual banquet meeting held Wednesday.

P. H. Johnson as vice-president; R. Crowle, secretary-treasurer; W. Scott and H. Butti, directors, were other officers elected.

Sketching the steady increase of power development in Alberta since the war, the minister declared: "Alberta is one of the best provinces in the Dominion for electrical power development."

He predicted more and more electrification in rural areas.

Banquet held in the main dining room of the Macdonald Hotel was attended by 150 members of the association with wives and invited guests.

North Laborer Gets Three Years For Robbery

A 32-year-old northland worker was sentenced to three years in Prince Albert penitentiary when he pleaded guilty in police court Thursday to robbery with violence.

George Ward, 32, who came to Edmonton recently after working as a laborer in Northern Alberta, admitted attacking Richard Moody, Penticton, B.C. in a lane near 96 street, Wednesday, knocking him to the ground and robbing him of $65.

Moody had arrived in Edmonton a few hours earlier and had gone to a 96 street address in search of a friend, courts was told.

Instead, he me. Ward who followed him out of the house, attacking him in the lane, after the pair had been drinking together.

JOHNSTONE WALKER LIMITED

They Are Human Beings

If there is any possible way in which the rules governing legal entry into Canada can be relaxed, they should be relaxed to permit the entry of Kenneth Darling.

This young Englishman is held at Emerson, Manitoba, for deportation because the condition of his health does not appear to be sufficiently high to satisfy immigration officials.

Meanwhile the young lady in Edmonton to whom he is engaged promises that if he is permitted to enter, they will marry and he will be given the best of care. Her family supports her in that promise. They should extend that promise into an undertaking to be responsible for him if he falls ill.

Now it is clear that good sense forbids an influx of settlers with a low health standard into Canada. So the authorities have talked austerely of precedents and rules and regulations.

But this young man and his fiancee are not statistics. They are figures on a piece of paper. They are human beings.

They are human beings confronted with a very human and very urgent problem. And each of them has demonstrated such determination and constancy and affection as would appear to be assets completely counterbalancing any slight deficiency in the young man's standard of health.

Kenneth Darling is to be given a new physical examination.

The results of that examination should be interpreted in the most generous way.

In this country he will have attention and care and affection. Returned to England, his chances will be impaired by the food shortage prevailing there.

No rule is so infallible as to permit of no exceptions.

Teach Safety in the Home

The contention of the Edmonton Safety Council that safety training should be given in the city schools is based on the fallacy that the public school system can be made to deliver instruction on every conceivable subject in response to every human need.

It is not true. The school curricula are overloaded as it is. School teachers are lamentably overburdened. The child himself is already being crammed with such a diversity of learning that he cannot possibly assimilate half of it usefully.

There is no possible doubt about the urgent need for safety training for both children and adults.

In Edmonton, in 1946, accidents cost a total of $2,500,000 in time and money. There were 7,950 persons injured and 280 persons totally disabled.

Most of these accidents were preventable. And adequate safety training could have prevented them.

But it is ridiculous and tragic to assume that the public schools can be made a fountain of all human knowledge.

These constant additions to the school curricula are particularly absurd at a time when there is a marked shortage of teachers and an equally marked shortage of money to pay them adequately.

The public seems to be perfectly willing to heap new tasks upon the schools, but notably unwilling to supply enough money to operate them decently.

Safety should and must be taught. But for the time being it should be taught at home.

Canada's Rising Birth Rate

The rising birth rate in Canada, announced by the bureau of statistics, is more than a record of increasing population. For a rising birth rate always runs parallel to an upsurge of moral, emotional and physical virility.

The bureau of statistics reveals that Canada's birth rate has reached a new all-time high.

The 1947 rate of 28.6 per 1,000 of population is the highest figure ever attained in this country since the average of of 27.4 was the highest point reached following the First World War.

This 1947 rate is markedly above the 1946 rate of 26.9, the 1945 rate of 23.9 and the 1944 rate of 23.8.

The mortality rate remains unchanged at 9.4 per 1,000 of population which gives the rate of natural increase a lift of 19.2 as against 17.5 in 1946 and 14.5 in 1945.

All this is intensely gratifying from the standpoint of the growth of the country.

For in the upswings and downswings of birth rates can be read the whole story of civilization.

The political and economic enterprise of the ancient Romans increased as their birth rate went up. The moment the birth rate declined, that initiative and national vigor began to wane.

The same thing was true of the Spanish empire. Their conquests paralleled their productivity.

And similarly, the misfortunes of the French nation began and appeared to centre in a falling rate of birth.

Canada's new statistics, therefore, are significant in every phase of Canadian life.

The birth rate indicates a rising vigor in the country that should be reflected socially, politically and economically.

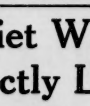
Soviet World Strategy Exactly Like Hitler's

The opinion expressed by John Foster Dulles to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey that Russia—in order to delay European economic recovery—was feigning a desire for agreements but actually striving to forestall them, is not original but it is correct.



THOMPSON

Though confused by propaganda emanating from many sources, Soviet global policy is clear. The Soviets are engaged in a five to 10 year program of expansion to be achieved initially without war, while taking account of war as a calculated risk. This program is based upon a concept of world strategy identical with Hitler's, which Hitler owed to his geopolitical adviser, Karl Haushofer who, in turn, owed it to the great British geographer, Sir Halford Mackinder.

In whatever other intellectual field the Russians may be deficient, they are consistent geographers who, for instance, appreciated the strategical importance of the Arctic before the Americans.

In their view, the Eastern hemisphere is the "world island," whose commanding position is central in the "heartland," as it emerges from the facts of geography and history. This "heartland" includes European Russia, the Baltic (a sea which can be closed by land power), the Danube, the Black Sea and the whole navigable middle east, the straits, Asia Minor, Armenia, Persia, Tibet and Mongolia.

Hard to Approach

This region cannot be approached by sea-based air power; but from it all Eurasia can be conquered by land-based masses of manpower and the America's isolated. Eastern Europe is so essential to it that Mackinder, 30 years ago, presented the following aphorism:

"Who rules East Europe commands the heartland.

The Berlin-Baghdad push of the Germans, their perpetual struggle to swallow the Baltic states and the southern and southern Ukraine (the direct cause of both world wars), Hitler's blurt that if he had the Ukraine plus Central and Eastern Europe he could command the world—this German world strategy is now Russia's.

In 1919 Mackinder predicted that the First World War would be resumed unless the peacemakers settled the German-Slav issue on the only grounds that would produce peace—neither Germany nor Russia must be allowed to consolidate the heartland; and between them must be erected a powerful federation of states, their independence supported by the West. This lesson went unheeded.

The Western Allies who secured the fractions of the East-European states from Austrian - German domination did not demand of them, in return, that the federate and create a common defence; and parochial jealousies enabled a revived Germany to destroy them one by one. The successful propaganda of the Germans during the Bismarckian regime over the "iniquity" of the Polish "corridor" prevented a final settlement of the eastern question and presaged Hitler's resumption of the war. Meanwhile the tendency of all democracies to make idealistic rather than realistic decisions permitted the Russians to move into precisely the power position Hitler had been forced to evacuate.

Preface to Next War

The consolidation of that position as the preface to the next war for world domination demands Berlin and Vienna. The struggle of the Russians for these has nothing to do with "legal" rights nor, in essence, has our struggle to prevent this. We are on the last frontiers of safety; and time is not on our side.

The Russians will not make war until they have rearmed in the air, built a more powerful submarine fleet, and created the atomic bomb with adequate stockpiles or disarmed the United States of this weapon by political tactics. But without war they already have moved into the positions which Hitler had to fight to take. Except (temporarily?) in Iran they have not suffered a single setback. They are successfully bringing Asia and the Near East into turmoil. And unlike Hitler they run no serious risk (the nightmare of land-based armies) of a two-front war.

These are, I am convinced, Russian calculations made possible for the second time after a world war by western misconception of basic security necessities.

Smiles

One night at a theatre a man who had dined rather too well stood up in his seat in the middle of the play and cried: "Is there a doctor in the house?"

At this second call another man rose and said: "Yes, I'm a doctor." Whereupon the other nearly finished off the performance, by asking in the most good natured: "How do you like the show, Doc?"

"Why is it that the fussiest women can hold on to the best servants?" asked the lady of the house of her cook in a moment of confidence.

"Ah, there you go with your compliments, ma'am," replied the cook, "but I'm sure I don't know."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Supports Value Religious Education

Editor, Bulletin—I do not know to what surveys Dr. Phillips of the Canadian Association referred when he said that religious training in the schools was a failure.

Dr. Phillips is a very sincere man, but it is only fair to say that an extensive survey conducted by the Religious Education Section of the Ontario Home and School Association showed that many teachers and school board members had reported a greater interest in Sunday School attendance, and a definite improvement in conduct in many cases through Religious Education in the schools of Ontario. "In no cases did the survey show any unfavorable results," said the Rev. Nelson Chappel, Secretary of the Department of Christian Education of the Canadian Council of Churches in an address to church leaders in McDougall Church Friday night.

Competition, Co-operation

Editor, Bulletin—We were very glad that representatives of so many business interests paid us a visit recently.

Being a co-operator and having joined practically every co-operative that ever started here, some of us looked in vain for the Edmonton heads of our Co-Op. wholesale, or Co-Op. seed growers, or Co-Op. dairy or grain or poultry or credit unions.

Some of these men we have known for many years. And there is no form of business that tends toward friendship as much as co-operation. It has seemed to me that competition tended toward conflict, strife, bitterness and in the international field to war.

It would seem that if we are going to get rid of the conflict of class against class in strikes, and of nation against nation in war, we have got to get rid of competition. Yet the chairman of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce declared his faith in competition and we presume he was speaking for the whole body.

His faith in the efficacy of competition seemed weak, however, for one of the chief purposes of the visit, vis: Unity of views with respect to a shorter and better Highway to Edmonton. He suggested that if the different sections of the Peace River country would drop the idea of competition for the advantage, regarding the location of a new road, and co-operate in finding the one route which would best serve the whole territory, then Edmonton Chamber of Commerce would co-operate in the effort, to the best of its ability.

It would seem that not only in the receiving of the best route for a new highway, but also in the securing of the best method of doing business between man and man or nation and nation, co-operation is the absolutely essential, the only way.

Competition may have tended toward the "survival of the fittest" in plant and animal life, but in human life, where we have the atomic bomb, it threatens the survival of us all.

Doubts Accuracy Figures on Building

Editor, Bulletin—On recent occasions Western Canada Lumber Companies, Pardon an old news hound if I doubt the accuracy of those figures—especially as they refer to building in Western Canada. For instance I know a fairsized town where 50 building permits have been issued since last spring. The total is actually around $125,000. If any eastern report company can supply me with details of any one of those 50 deals I certainly will be surprised—and beg their pardon for writing this letter—owner—contractor or price—but they will have to make an affidavit as to the date they got the info and from whom—if they know what that means. To put it mildly I also know several other centres that fit the picture to a lesser extent. I thank you Mr. Editor for the space involved if you publish this.

Church Changed?

Editor, Bulletin—Many noted preachers have stated that church attendance has fallen, that the world is in a mess and the church has failed in its duty.

The church has become a glorified music hall and clubhouse. Too many of the ministers are interested in holding a job rather than preaching the truth of God. Money and the desire to be popular rule the pulpit; hence the devil has taken his place in the front pew. Read Cor. 3-19.

What has happened to the Bible?

Praises Review

Editor, Bulletin—At last there is one critic who isn't afraid to speak out, and give a true opinion of a concert, instead of padding the review with all the usual adjectives which one piles on when he doesn't have much to write.

In my opinion, Haddad's concert was a rather poor effort, all the way from his weak, effeminate version of God Save the King, to his breakneck, rip-roaring, 200 m.p.h. rendition of Claire De Lune. Even though Edmonton is not foremost as far as music goes, that still doesn't mean that every pianist that puts on a concert here is going to get a great ovation.

Too many papers make their write-ups of concerts before the concert even takes place. Invariably, Ernie Dodds one line, and are practically dripping with gooey adjectives of praise. Why the Women's Musical Club wants these is beyond me. They say that they want to improve the standard of music in Edmonton, but they certainly are the first to complain when there is a critique which describes the performer as he actually is.

When a person goes to hear a performance he doesn't care if the artist has played for ten years with the London Philharmonic, or if he is just beginning. The listener goes to listen to the music, and to judge it entirely from the esthetic point of view. The Women's Music Club seems to have been overwhelmed by the fact that Haddad played with the Detroit Symphony, and have based all their statements on that one thing alone. I wonder just how many actually listened to that performance with an ear for perfection, and not just for fast and flashy playing.

In closing, I should like to say that a city needs more critiques of that type which you published in your paper. They would help music far more than the Women's Musical Club, I'm sure with all its oh'ing and Ah'ing.

Tough Going For Pensioner

Editor, Bulletin—Several letters have appeared re various pensions lately. Perhaps if I have never seen mentioned, is a life pensioner under the Workmen's Compensation Board. Before a life pension is granted, some severe handicap must be left by the accident, if found permanent then the pension is fixed. In the majority of cases the pension is made up taking the cost of living under consideration is far from keeping anyone. Who cannot be employed owing to the handicap."

I have to struggle along on a dollar per day. The board has always dealt fairly with me, given me ready treatment and my case great consideration before putting me on life pension. The point I desire to raise, is that when the pension was awarded many years ago, the cost of living was far below the present. Could not the Compensation Board reconsider those cases and grant a little extra to meet the cost of living?

Overseas Parcels

Editor, Bulletin—I have just returned from a six weeks' visit to London, England. I would like to suggest to the people who send parcels abroad to send the following: Candies and chocolates, biscuits, eggs, bacon and ham. In spite of tremendous quantities of the three latter articles sent by the Canadian Government, they are rarely obtainable.

FROM TODAY'S NEWS

By Dewitt Mackenzie

James B. Conant, president of Harvard University, in discussing the European crisis says he thinks if the Soviet Union will force the issue provided Britain, France and the United States are firm in holding just positions.

Dr. Conant expresses this view in his new book, "Education in a Divided World." He is "convinced that there is little or no analogy between the Nazi menace and the Soviet challenge." He continues:

"The former, to my view, had to be met by force of arms because it was an immediate military threat. The latter is an ideological and political thrust supported by military means; the Russian armies hidden behind the iron curtain are defensive troops to support political gains by the advanced fifth column within another nation; they are not to be used as the spearhead of the forward movement.

"I recognize I am being very dogmatic about a highly debatable subject. Not only will many experts on foreign affairs disagree with this diagnosis, but history may prove me wrong within the next few months.

"However, I am bold enough to predict that, unlike Hitler, Russia will not take aggressive military action "by invading a nation without an invitation from a de facto government. . . .

"Recurring periods of extreme tension would seem inevitable consequences of an armed truce. If Great Britain, France and the United States are firm in their determination to hold positions recognized as just by world opinion, I doubt if the Soviets will force the issue.

"The proper pattern for preventing the outbreak of another global war would seem to involve readiness to meet force only by the use of force coupled with willingness to negotiate at any time on matters of broad policy."

I doubt if many foreign affairs experts in the democracies will do other than agree with Dr. Conant.

The consensus of objective observers is that the Soviets don't want war—at least not now. It's clear that the Communists intend to push their offensive to the limit—short of precipitating war. Therefore if war should develop out of the present obviously dangerous situation it would be by accident, so to speak, rather than by premeditation.

The recent hardening of the policy of the western powers certainly fits in with Dr. Conant's "pattern for presenting another global war." They recognize that the way to stop a bully is to stand up to him.

Middle Classes Urged to Find Their Tongues

SCOTT

I see by the papers that a group of citizens are forming something called The Union of Middle Class Interests and have announced their first dinner meeting. The invitations vaguely notes: "Dress informal. Place cards. Good speakers. Topic, 'The Work of the UMI—When and Where Will We Strike?'"

I hate to be an old spoil sport, but if ever I heard the trumpet call of a doomed cause this is it. Offhand, I'd say its chances of success were just about on a par as those of that wonderfully enigmatic group known as the Association of Canadian Individualists which folded up silently and blew away in the night.

I can think of a dozen or more such groups which struggled to make a noise that might be taken for the voice of the middle-class. None of them ever made much more than a muffled murmer before quietly expiring.

Poor old middle class! On the one side, organized to the teeth and afire with the flame of a cause, stand the workers. On the other side, massed and militant, are the tycoons and their tycooness. And in the centre of the arena, trapped and nervous and unhappily in the line of fire, the bewildered, white-collared individualists of the middle class mill about, as vulnerable as those innocent by-standers once invariably mowed down in the Chicago gang wars.

This great and tongue-tied mob outnumber the other classes two-to-one. At is unpredictable whim empires fall, heroes and bums are made, the world moves forward or in reverse. Yet en masse it never speaks in anything but an unintelligible babble and it looks as if that's the way it's going to be.

Babble of Many Voices

The prospectus of the UMI says, "Take your wife out to dinner and to a meeting that will be educational, inspirational and keep you posted in a great and growing movement for the preservation of our western civilization."

Nothing could be more calculated to send any ordinary citizen of the Middle Class into full flight. To the Middle Class man this kind of talk is either out-right Communism or downright Capitalism, or possibly a new Revivalism in town. All four could scare him. If he is going to take his wife out to dinner, it will have to be either Mother's Day or Christmas. Otherwise he would just rather stay pleasantly at home in his slippers and listen to the radio.

In fact the Middle Class man is darkly suspicious of anything that threatens to be inspirational and bless him, he is so right. There is always some guy who is sending out invitations to preserve western civilization and nine times out of ten it turns out he just wants some lower taxes or a new bus line.

Naturally a union of Middle Class Interests presupposes some sharing of interests, which is just about as wild and wrong a guess as you could make. Middle Class men and women look alike, it's true undistinguished, vaguely apprehensive); they live in the same kind of houses stretching in rows after row along the same kinds of streets; they dress alike ever so slightly shabby, they munch the same kind of Crunchies at breakfast.

But there the similarity ends. No one rallying cry will get more than a handful of curious stragglers asked to answer that stirring question, "When and where will we strike?" they would go galloping off in different directions, most of them right home to bed.

The wildest rebel and the stubbornest conservative are Middle Class men alike, riding the bus together in the morning to face the rigors of another day at the office and, like as not, discussing their petunias or the latest cute saying of their progeny.

Tremendous Audience

I know nothing of the background of this curious movement. At the worst, as almost all of them are, it's a group promoting some special selfish interest. At the best, it's the idea of some introspective member of the middle class who has worried too much about all this mass of opinion and intelligence going its own sweet way.

If that's the case he ought to stop worrying and take up gardening. If there's any one class with its feet on the ground serving as rather cautious spectators in a contest of extremists it's the voiceless middle class. In the realm of decision and change and progress they creep, but by the Lord Harry, they creep in the right direction.

They have their problems and their struggles, but let some strident voice get out, "White collar workers! Arise!" and it would be greeted with embarrassment and perhaps a few titters from the rear of the hall.

Indeed, unlike the classes which sandwich it in, the Middle Class man rarely identifies himself consciously with any one strata of society and urged to marshal behind some initials will probably ask for time to think it over—say 30 or 40 years.

I suppose if there were any rallying cry that might appeal to this vast, silent company it would have to do with such simple things as living a decent life, doing a good job well, being as pleasant as the times will allow and maintaining a careful, doubting vigilance over the State.

Co-Operation Is Urged At Chamber Meeting

POUCE COUPE, Oct. 15.—First regular meeting of the Pouce Coupe Chamber of Commerce since the polio ban was imposed, was held in the Municipal office with Mr. Purdy, field representative of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, as guest speaker.

Mr. Purdy reviewed the activities of the Chamber of Commerce in local communities and in the national chamber, its aims, purposes, objectives and social welfare interests. He also detailed the civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural activities. The part taken by the Chamber of Commerce in the province and the Dominion was clearly outlined by the speaker.

In conclusion he pointed out that through co-operation of all Chambers of Commerce, a better Canada would be built up.

Following Mr. Purdy's address, the regular business was attended to. Conditions of roads leading into the village from Baytree, and Hythe, Alberta were discussed.

A resolution to the Associated Boards of Trade meeting in Vancouver that the Hart highway and the PGE railway be continued into the Peace River country was endorsed.

DISTRICT NEWS IN BRIEF

Red Deer Postal Delivery Starts

RED DEER, Oct. 15.—Postal delivery starts in Red Deer on Monday, Nov. 1, climaxing efforts which have been carried on here for some years to obtain this much needed service. There will be two deliveries per day in the business section, starting at 8 a.m. and 2 p.m. and one delivery daily in the residential areas, starting at 8 a.m. There will also be special delivery service.

A number of street letter boxes will be placed at convenient points throughout the city. There will be at least five, and possibly seven postmen. Twenty-three candidates wrote examinations for positions of postmen. Results have not been announced yet.

Postmaster Thos. H. Edis has advised citizens to start having their mail addressed to their street address and to have mail boxes placed at their homes in readiness for commencement of the new service.

A letter from the Postmaster General at Ottawa to Mayor C. R. Bunn will officially inaugurate the service on Nov. 1. Representatives of the Canadian Legion, the Red Deer Board of Trade, the service clubs and members of the city staff will be present. There will be a public banquet in the evening to mark the occasion.

Work On Highways Proceeds In North

HIGH PRAIRIE, Oct. 15.—R. C. Moore, general foreman reports that bulldozing and filling has been done on the Snipe Lake road and Thorgensen's outfit is no weaving for Peace River. Several bridges remain to be built when the bridge crew arrives.

Work is progressing in Faust with regrading streets and putting in culverts on highway and putting in sidewalks and crossings. Geo. Payne is in charge of the crew here.

White Fish Lake Trail has been bulldozed and filled and now a car can proceed as far as the old Anderson stopping house, north of Salt Prairie settlement.

Killam-Viking Gravelling Starts

KILLAM, Oct. 15.—Work was started last week on the gravelling on the Killam-Viking highway which was constructed last summer. Gravel is being obtained from a pit which was opened in the North Killam district.

East Pine Couple Married 50 Years

DAWSON CREEK, B.C., Oct. 15.—Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Orford, who are both over 80 years of age, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently at their home at East Pine.

Married in Manitoulin Island, Ont., in 1889, Mr. and Mrs. Orford have lived at East Pine for 40 years. They have two sons, Alex at Willowbrook, B.C., and Arthur at home.

The couple is especially fond of flower gardening and belong to the Church of England.

Estonian Band To Be Admitted

HALIFAX, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Canada has opened its doors to another band of Estonian and Latvian political refugees. A. G. Christie, inspector in charge of immigration here, has announced that the 101 immigrants who arrived here two months ago would be released today. They have been detained at immigration quarters since their arrival aboard the 70-foot motor vessel Osterva and the 44-ton former British gunboat Capry.

Baby is Unhurt In Car Accident

BELLIS, Oct. 15.—Blinded when he met another car, Nick Taschuk went too near the edge of a soft shoulder on the road going south from Bellis. His car turned over and rolled into the ditch.

Mrs. Taschuk received cuts and minor injuries. The other occupant of the car, the Taschuk's baby daughter, was unhurt.

FATHER, SON IN ACCIDENT

KILLAM, Oct. 15.—Hjalmer Fossen and his son, Allan, miraculously escaped unscratched from a car accident last week, when their small Ford jitney turned completely over, pinning them underneath.

The accident occurred north of Killam when Mr. Fossen and Allan were on a duck hunting expedition.

Allan, fortunately, was able to crawl out from under the car and raise it sufficiently for Mr. Fossen to get out. Neither of the occupants was hurt, but the car was badly damaged.

Five Persons Injured In City Traffic Smashes

Five persons received minor injuries in three traffic accidents in Edmonton Thursday and early today.

Injured were:

Henry Steinhauer, Forestburg, Alta., deep cut to lip.

Betty Porret and Ted Munro were hurt when an auto in which they were riding struck a soft shoulder in the road and overturned in the ditch on 129 street near city limits at 9:35 p.m. Thursday.

The Linden boy and Mazurevich were passengers in a car driven by David Linden, 13925 117 street, which collided with the rear of a loaded coal truck parked in front of 11918 127 avenue.

Poor visibility due to rain was given as the cause of this accident.

Steinhauer was riding in an auto driven by William McEwan, 9749 98 street, along 97 street early today when it struck the rear of a car ahead that slowed down suddenly.

No charges have been laid as a result of these accidents.

Star Gazer Unafraid Comet Will Hit Us

Human beings have little to fear from comets. Lightning is a far greater menace to life on this planet.

This was stressed by E. T. Sheffield, MA, in an address on comets Thursday to the monthly meeting of Edmonton centre of the Royal Astronomical Society.

Mr. Sheffield, professor of mathematics at the University of Alberta, formerly carried out research work at the University of Minnesota on vagrant members of the solar system.

Comets come and go but follow well defined orbits and chance of a collision between a comet and the earth is "negligible", the speaker said.

He cited several recorded instances when the earth has passed through tails of comets with no adverse affects.

D. B. Scott, professor of physics, University of Alberta, was chairman.

Speaker was introduced by Dr. J. W. Campbell, head of the mathematics department and honorary president of the Astronomical Society.

Farm Group Asks Freight Rate Action

The Federal government must take action on the freight rate question and the implementation of the coarse grain marketing legislation.

These, in effect, were the two major decisions of the two-day executive meeting of the Alberta Farmers' Union, which concluded here Thursday.

It was also decided that the AFU board of directors would be called in Nov. 2 to deal with these two problems and to make preparations for the AFU-United Farmers of Alberta amalgamation, Carl Stimpfle, president of the AFU said.

An official statement released at the meeting's close, Wednesday said:

"The farmers of Alberta are watching with interest the brief as presented to the cabinet by the seven provinces in regard to the freight rate question.

"If satisfactory results are not obtained, the farm organizations will have a major problem to face in this connection.

"With this and the coarse grain marketing legislation which the farmers are desirous of having implemented, some concrete decision must be made.

"The executive is therefore calling in the board of directors to outline a policy for these two major problems.

"These, and preparations for the amalgamation convention Jan. 11 in Calgary, will be thoroughly discussed by the Board at a meeting to be held the week of Nov. 2 in the AFU central office."

Named as a delegate to accompany Stimpfle to the Montana Farmers' Union convention Oct. 20-24, was R. N. Russell, AFU vice-president.

Mr. Stimpfle said his address at the Great Falls meeting will deal mainly with a comparison of AFU-MFU problems.

Swifts Announce Suggestion Contest

A year-long contest, to be run in conjunction with the Company's suggestion awards program, was announced today by Swift Canadian Company Limited.

J. C. Peter, manager of the Edmonton Branch, said today the contest will be open to all employes of Swift Canadian and company pensioners.

Prizes will range from new automobiles to home appliances and portable radios.

During the past 23 years, the announcement said, Swift has adopted more than 30,000 suggestions submitted by employes in the field of methods and policies.

Trust Official In Edmonton

Vice-president and general manager of the Royal Trust Co., Ross Clarkson of Montreal, was in Edmonton Thursday conferring with Robert Steele, manager of the company here.

Mr. Clarkson visited the Leduc oil fields and was guest of honor at a staff dinner at the Macdonald hotel.

Pert Nova Taschuk of 9717 89th avenue picks vocalist Mel Torme as the entry to bring her success in the Duke's Amateur Disc Jockey Sweepstakes.

HOME OF THE NORTHERN POTATO and Vegetable Company Limited, located at 12526 101 street, which had a modest start three years ago, now boasts of a $65,000 business enterprise. A "Bert" Tonsi, 36-year-old Edmontonian, is president and managing director of the plant, said to be the largest of its kind in western Canada. A staff of three women and 12 men are steadily employed at the plant, some of whom are shown in the above picture.

Firm Started on Little Now Does Large Business

By TOMMY GRAHAM

From a modest, shoe-string beginning three years ago to a $65,000 business enterprise today—that's the record of the Northern Potato and Vegetable Company Limited.

The firm, which officially opens the latest addition to its plant—a modernized washing and refrigeration unit—now becomes one of the largest of its kind in western Canada.

Northern Potato and Vegetable Company Limited is the "brain child" of the well-known and popular young Edmontonian A. "Bert" Tonsi.

He conceived the idea of going into business for himself while employed at a local fruit and vegetable wholesale firm early in 1946.

He discussed his proposed business venture with his wife, Christine, and receiving her okay, talked things over with two of his fellow workers, Jean Innes and Bert Castenelli.

Both offered him loads of encouragement, so he scouted around and located a place in a basement of a warehouse in South Edmonton which would suit his business purpose.

He then reported his discovery to Jean and Bert, "who were so keen and willing to encourage me I took them into the firm," said Tonsi. "Jean as secretary and Bert as vice-president."

"Fortunately we got away to a flying start and business continued to increase, so much that we had to increase our staff."

VOLUME INCREASES

Tonsi said that several fellow workers at the firm he was formerly employed by agreed to work for him and as the business volume increased he took on more help.

February, 1946, saw the start of the firm, and "in one year our business became too great for us to handle at our South Side building. After considerable scouting about the city I located a war surplus building at 126 avenue and 101 street which would offer us sufficient space to meet with increased business. We moved it one block to our present location and set up business on the north side," he added.

HAD TO REMODEL

"We had to remodel the building to suit our requiremen's, and when we got it finished, farmers and market gardeners shipped us so much produce that we had to build additions to accommodate it," said Tonsi.

The new washing machine and refrigeration unit which officially is put into use tomorrow is the latest improvement to the ever-increasing business.

Tonsi said: "The plant can now accommodate 50 tons of potatoes and vegetables."

"A lot of the produce we receive is graded, but everything we ship is graded again before leaving our plant," said Tonsi.

The plant employs a staff of 15, three women and 12 men, all of whom have experience in their line.

Tonsi himself is an old hand at gardening, his parents having been market gardeners in Edmonton for a good many years. They still own and operate the Belmont Park Gardens at North Edmonton.

"I feel I know the produce business because I've been associated with it so long," he said, "and I like my staff to know the produce and how to handle it also," he added.

Musician Dies

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Siegmund Von Hausegger, 76, German conductor and composer, has died at Munich, the Berlin press announced yesterday.

Enrolment Down

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—(CP)—The University of Manitoba announced yesterday an enrolment of 5,930 students, a decrease of 802 compared with 1947. Officials said the decrease was due mainly to a reduction in the number of veterans in the freshman year. This year, less than 100 veterans are enrolled.

Head of Company Well Known Here

A. 'Bert' Tonsi Long Active In Athletic Circles

President and managing director of Northern Potato and Vegetable Company Limited—A. "Bert" Tonsi, is well known in Edmonton district.

Son of the late Anton Tonsi and Teresa Bortolotta, Bert was born at Ironwood, Mich, U.S.A., on April 18, 1912.

The family moved to Edmonton while Bert was a child and his parents took up market gardening on a plot of land in the North Edmonton area, along the Fort Trail, which is known as Klondyke Gardens.

MARRIED IN 1936

On Oct. 24, 1936, he married Christina Starr, daughter of Jack Starr and the late Ada Garner, and shortly afterwards went to Canada Packers.

While employed at the north Edmonton packing plant, Bert organized and coached a girls' fastball club and for the past 12 years has been active in local sport circles as coach and trainer of various clubs.

He piloted his charges to five provincial baseball titles, one provincial softball title and four northern Alberta crowns.

Bert was manager and coach of the Muttart Lumber girls' fastball club which romped through all opposition in th province, the Orange Crush girls' team which also scored triumphant marches through several seasons of play and the Canada Packers' girl fastball nine.

Tonsi achieved equal success with men's clubs and this year as pilot of the CYO Intermediate baseball nine, he coached his club to the league leadership, only to lose out in the final play-offs.

Bert is an all-round sport enthusiast, and no matter what the season, he's taking active part in some sporting event. He has coached basketball, baseball, rugby, fastball and hockey clubs.

This winter he is acting as trainer of the Waterloo Mercury's entry in the Intermediate loop.

In addition to his coaching and sport organizing activities, Bert takes time out to participate in various sporting events himself. He was a better than average rugby player, having performed with the Hi-Grads, EAC and Eskimo clubs.

Bert joined the Edmonton Fire Department in September, 1938, after leaving the employment of Canada Packers. He remained with the fire fighters until 1942, when he obtained a leave of absence to enlist with the RCMP on intelligence work during the Second World War.

After 18 months of service he returned to the fire department but only remained a short while, resigning to accept a position as manager and buyer with a local fruit and vegetable firm. It was while employed here that he conceived the idea of going into business for himself in the same line.

Bert takes active interest in social and religious circles. He is a Roman Catholic and a member of the Knights of Columbus. He is also a member of the Moose Lodge and Canadian Athletic Club. With his wife, Christine, and daughter Sharon, 8, and son Jack, 5, he lives at 11823 87 street.

Staff Members Well Treated

An employe's recreational and lunch room is located in the basement of the office section.

Temperature throughout the premises is thermostatically controlled and the produce is handled in spacious quarters enabling the employes to operate without fear of the obstruction usually experienced in crowded quarters.

"The conveniences take up valuable space but help—harmony is essential in a progressive firm, and as we're just one big happy family we have to enjoy the best," says manager Bert Tonsi.

Pilot Killed

SARNIA, Ont., Oct. 15.—(CP)—Lieut. Joseph Thomas Murphy, 24, formerly of Sarnia, was killed Wednesday when the Royal Canadian Navy Seafire plane he was piloting crashed near Cadillac, Mich., it was disclosed here yesterday.

Visas Are Refused Russian Delegates

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Visas have been refused Russian delegates to a labor convention here because they asked to stay a month for a five-day meeting. The convention involved was that of the Communist-dominated Confederation Generale du Travail, which is leading a current strike wave in France.

BATAVIA, Java, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Unconfirmed reports said yesterday that Communist leader Setiadjit has been killed in the revolt against the Indonesian Republic. Setiadjit formerly was vice-premier in the cabinet of Amir Sjarifoeddin.

U.S. Capital Hinted For PGE Extension

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., Oct. 15.—(CP)—Plans to extend the British Columbia government-owned Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Alaska were reported today.

Correspondence between United Senator Warren G. Magnuson and the B.C. government was made public in which the Senator indicated that "private capital is available to construct the greater part of the railroad to Alaska and for the development of affiliated natural resources in B.C."

The railway, now comprising 348 miles of track from Squamish, near Vancouver, to Quesnel, 50 miles south of this north-central B.C. centre was begun in 1912 to provide a rail link between Vancouver and the province's "great northern empire." Since then numerous unsuccessful attempts have been made by the B.C. government to finance additional construction.

"I am in a position to assure you," Senator Magnuson said, "that for more than a year Willis T. Batchelier, president and chief engineer of the Canadian Alaska Railway Co., has been working closely with me and with various United States government agencies involved."

The senator said arrangements were completed for Batchelier to discuss with the Canadian government in Ottawa regarding "private financing" and "co-ordinating these with future government plans."

In the earliest days of the church it was considered irreverent to appear gloved before a member of the clergy.

Produce Handled by Firm Receives Best of Care

Produce handled by Northern Potato and Vegetable Company, Limited, receives the best possible care.

"The job of getting vegetables to the consumer at the peak of freshness is vital to successful produce merchandising," says Manager Bert Tonsi, "and as we aim to provide the best, that extra care is exercised by our staff."

The executive of the firm says his staff is well versed in the "problems of packing, grading, loading, transporting and warehouse handling to control freshness and bring produce to market as close to their original quality and freshness as humanly possible."

HARVESTED FRESH

"Harvesting at the proper moment means that consumers get produce at the peak of its flavor and freshness," according to the local produce expert.

"All produce is graded under government regulations and inspected before being shipped," said Tonsi.

Produce shipped to the plant is again sorted and graded. The small and off-size potatoes and vegetables automatically drop from the sorting machine into bins, while the first grade produce carries on where graders check it over and place it in sacks or bins for future handling.

A new machine recently installed brushes and washes off root vegetables before they are packed into sacks or bags for shipping.

EVEN TEMPERATURES

The plant is air conditioned throughout and an even temperature is maintained by thermostatically controlled units.

Northern Potato and Vegetable Company Limited has 20 storage bins, each of which can accommodate a ton and a half of root vegetables.

Three root cellars also store much of the firm's produce, while a refrigerated storage room is capable of accommodating 100 tons of cabbage and 90 tons of parsnips, or other root vegetables.

The firm also has its own sack sewing machine, where all sacks which have been torn through handling are repaired, before being washed and put into further use.

MODERN SHIPPING

Produce, according to Mr. Tonsi, can either be shipped in refrigerated cars or in ventilated trucks, of which the firm has three. The plant also has three loading platforms and as many as six railway cars may be loaded with produce from these docks.

Tonsi said "The plant is worth $65,000, equipment presently installed totalling $20,000 of this amount."

Throughout, the premises offers all modern and up-to-date machinery.

With latest additions, the plant's overall length is 150 feet and width 32 feet, with a full basement and a storage room above the main floor of the premises.

HOUSEHOLD SHIPMENTS

"Our staff puts out as many as 200 of these 10-pound bags of potatoes an hour," said Tonsi who added, "during a good week we can produce about 6,000 of these bags."

The unit where most root vegetables are washed and made ready for shipment is said by the management to be one of the largest of its kind in western Canada.

The vegetables, after being sorted, are conveyed by means of a pulley belt into the room and carried up a conveyor into a bin which empties into the large roller.

Water is sprayed over this roller which continues to rotate and when the vegetables are thoroughly cleaned they are emptied onto a large table where they are sorted and packed.

"We can put through 5,000 pounds an hour," said Manager Tonsi, "and are one of the few firms of our kind in western Canada who have a machine of this type."

"If we are to keep in business we have to have the best. We started small but did everything in a big way and it's paid off," said Tonsi. "Service and satisfaction is our motto and we aim to live up to it," he concluded.

Salmon Spawning Believed Largest

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—(CP)—About a million sockeye salmon are spawning in the Chilco Lake area in the Cariboo this year, chief fisheries supervisor A. J. Whitmore said yesterday.

The spawn is believed to be the largest there in history, and triples that of 1944, the last cycle year for the fish.

Heavy Immigration

CANBERRA, Australia, Oct. 15.—(Reuters)—Australia will receive a record number of 14,000 permanent new settlers, 7,500 of them Britons, this month, immigration minister Arthur Calwell announced yesterday.

Historians believe that ancient man knew of the existence of a strange force which is known today as electricity.

Hunter Is Killed In Gun Accident

CLARESHOLM, Oct. 15.—(CP)—C. W. Keer, 47, of Claresholm was instantly killed Wednesday when his 12-gauge shotgun discharged as he was climbing a fence on a hunting trip.

The accident occurred near Stevenson's bridge on Willow creek, about five miles southwest of here. Survivors include his widow, a son and a daughter, all of Claresholm.

Canadiens, Rangers Play 1-1 Stalemate

Rayner Handles 31 Montreal Shots to Crash Spotlight

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Montreal Canadiens and the reshuffled New York Rangers opened their share of the National Hockey league's new season Thursday night with a one-all draw.

The deadlock was a disappointment to the 11,200 home-town fans who saw their Canadiens hang grimly to a one-goal lead from early in the first period until six minutes from the final siren.

Goalie Chuck Rayner's acrobatic work in the Ranger nets was a big factor in keeping Canadiens from winning. He was called on to make one sensational save after another and handled 31 shots against 14 for Bill Durnan.

FULL OF FIGHT

Those expecting the injury-riddled Rangers to collapse and fall apart were in for a surprise. The New York attack lacked cohesion and smoothness but for the most part it was rugged and full of fight.

With Frankie Eddolls, Edgar Laprade and Buddy O'Connor out of action because of an automobile accident, the Rangers nevertheless were on the hustle all night.

Often play lagged and became spotty but it soon revived and a total of eight penalties were counted, six to Canadiens.

George Robertson, Winnipeg rookie who played with Montreal's senior Royals last year, scored Canadiens' only goal after three minutes of play. He took a passout from Elmer Lach and snapped a backhander shot past Rayner.

Later in the final period Nick Mickoski, Ranger rookie, faced off near the Canadien net. Ed Kullman picked up the puck and drove a hard short shot past Durnan.

CAGEY HOCKEY

From there to the end both teams appeared unwilling to attempt a wide open attack although Canadiens put on a last-minute flare that had Rayner busy.

Coach Frank Boucher of Rangers shuffled his lines like a deck of cards. Fred Shero, a defenceman, showed up at centre and later on the wing.

Stampeders Play Quakers Tonight

Calgary Stampeders, the last team to crash the 1948-49 Western Canada Hockey League schedule, will take on Saskatoon Quakers at Victoria Arena tonight.

Quakers travel to Lethbridge for a Saturday night fixture with Leafs and then do an about turn to Edmonton for a tussle with Flyers Monday evening.

CALL TO ALL CAGE ENTHUSIASTS!

It's time for all good basketball players to gut down to business.

An organization meeting of the senior men's league has been called for Tuesday evening at the USO building. Election of officers will be the main item of business, but several other important matters will be dealt with.

Meeting gets underway at 8 o'clock. President Ed Tomick will be in the chair.

GENERAL ELECTRIC ENGINE JACKET HEATERS

Universal

The CGE-36 Engine Jacket Heater will fit any make of car and may be quickly and easily installed in the lower hose connection with a pocket-knife and a screw driver. Merely cut a 13/16-inch hole in the lower radiator hose and insert the heater. Two screws clamp the heater to the hose, making a permanent and water-tight joint.

This heater is equipped with a four-foot cord set extending from the heater to beyond the engine hood and a seven-foot extension for plugging into the nearest outlet. It may be plugged in a few minutes before starting or can be operated all night.

Rated at 400 watts, at 115 volts, this heater is available for 25 or 60 cycle use. Each $5.95

Chrysler Products

The CGE-366 Engine Jacket Heater is a "clamp-in" block type heater and is recommended for all Chrysler cars having a 15/16-inch diameter Welsh (frost) plug hole in engine block.

This heater also utilizes the famous Calrod element and is installed permanently in the engine block. It is not affected by anti-freeze compounds or summer driving.

Each heater comes equipped with two cord sets; a four-foot cord set extending from the heater beyond the engine hood, and a seven-foot extension for plugging into the nearest outlet.

This heater is rated at 400 watts, at 115 volts, and is available for 25 or 60 cycle use. Each $7.35

JOE McCARTHY HINTED BEHIND BAKER BOUNCE

BOSTON, Oct. 15.—(BUP)—General manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox says he fired Del Baker as coach, and Cronin hints the request came from manager Joe McCarthy. Baseball men say it all points to the fact that McCarthy will be back as manager next year. There had been talk that McCarthy would resign.

A report out of Boston Wednesday stated Baker had resigned. However, at his San Antonio, Tex., home, Baker claimed he was fired.

Scona, Vic in Crucial Hi School Grid Battle

The word 'crucial' has been overworked but for want of a better one we must apply it to the second game of the Senior high school football doubleheader at Clarke Stadium tonight.

Scona "Yellow Jackets" meet Victoria "Crimson Tide" and a win for the South Siders will practically clinch an unbeaten season for they meet the weak Westglen squad in the final game of the schedule a week from Saturday.

ON THE OTHER HAND

On the other hand, the "Tide" will be all out for a victory that would put them in a tie with the Scona crew. St. Joe's, who meet Eastwood Saturday night, would also move into a first place tie with a triumph. And each club should win their last games next weekend.

The referee problem of last Saturday, when head linesmen Cecil Goldstick had to take over as referee and handle the game with two hastily recruited helpers, has been eliminated for Friday.

MARQUARDT AND KIRK

Stuart Bird, director of the league, said Thursday night that Bud Marquardt and Paul Kirk would be the field officials and Don McCannel the head linesman.

There are just two more weeks until the sudden-death playoff for the league championship, Oct. 29. In case of a three-way tie come that date, however, there will be a draw with one team getting a bye. The winner of the first series then would meet the bye-holder November 5.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct 15—(AP)—Providence Reds, flashing a better passing attack and a stouter defence than their opponents, downed New Haven Ramblers 5-2 Thursday in the American Hockey league seasonal opener here.

Three Providence goals were scored while the Ramblers were short a man due to penalties.

New Auditorium Backers Don't Frighten So Easy

Wednesday the Edmonton Exhibition Association again announced plans to enlarge the Arena. This time they set the zero hour as next spring.

Less than 24 hours later Jack Jewell, one of the men keenly interested in the scheme to provide Edmonton with a new $1,500,000 downtown auditorium, indicated that the announcement had failed to dampen the enthusiasm of himself and friends for their own pet project.

"Whether the Exhibition Association ever gets around to enlarging the Arena or not makes little difference where we're concerned," he stated. "We mean to go ahead just the same."

The young businessman-sportsman further stated that on all sides he had run into citizens who thought the auditorium idea strictly a good one.

"We can raise the money," Jewell put in confidently. "All we need is a good location."

In this connection the auditorium group has made application to the city for property on Kingsway. Council turned over the matter to the Town Planning commission. It is known that several aldermen already are on record as opposing the transfer of any city land for the proposed auditorium.

In all this discussion of a new general-purpose building Jewell, Jim Christianson, Sid Parsons and others sparking the project make clear that several years must elapse before its completion "regardless of when we get started."

Also they maintain that within 30 days of securing suitable property a public share-selling campaign will be underway.

Wouters, trailing in points until the seventh round, made a terrific comeback from then on but could not nail his elusive opponent.

Injury Keeps Louis Holmes On Sidelines

Louis Holmes, who scored the first goal of the local WCHL season as Flyers trounced Lethbridge by 6-2 Wednesday, is likely to be on the sidelines for the next two weeks.

The veteran pivot suffered a shoulder injury as the Allan Cup champions got away to their flying start. The Gurnsey native used through a light workout last night but Holmes turned up missing. Following the drill the fear that he may not see action for a time was brought out.

However there was a silver lining in that Doug Anderson, previously on the 'sick' list, took his old place between Bing Merlak and Andy Clovechok. Indications are that he will be ready to go at a good clip when Saskatoon Quakers come to the Arena Monday. Holmes filled in for Anderson in the opener.

Flyers will practice again tonight, lay off Saturday, and then go at it all over again in a Sunday morning session.

Ironmen 4-2

Canucks Obtain Aid From Detroit

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—(CP)—A top forward and a hard-hitting defenceman are en route to bolster the Pacific Coast Hockey League's Vancouver Canucks, owner Coley Hall announced Thursday.

Hall said he had paid $3,000 to the Detroit Red Wings for Joe Iannerilli, Omaha forward from the United States League and secured Walter Back under option from the same club.

Both may be here in time for Friday's tilt with Tacoma.

DICK LOWE

Dick Lowe Returns After Season in U.S.

Dick Lowe is back on Jasper Avenue after his first baseball season in the United States. And after a summer of pitching baseballs past enemy batsmen for Medford Dodgers of the Far West League he figures the great American game "beats working."

It was Lowe, you will remember, who selected Brooklyn Dodger scouts Howie Haak and Bob Clements in 1947 and eventually became the first player out of the modern city junior league to join a major league chain.

A FAIR SEASON

The clean-cut righthander from Nampa farm claims he had a fair season with Medford.

"I closed out with eight wins and three losses," he said Thursday, "and saw considerable action in relief roles."

The Dodgers finished in second place to the pennant-winning Oroville Red Sox and were bumped out of the Shaugnessy Playoffs by Santa Rosa Pirates in four games.

"My greatest single improvement over the 126-game schedule was gaining control," explained the 1947 pitching ace of the junior Maple Leafs," and it was a lack of this commodity which kept me from getting 'em over in the early going."

HAS A GOOD CURVE

Under pitcher-manager Leroy Shepherd, Lowe says he has learned to throw a good curve and a fast ball which "takes off", as they say in the trade. Haak, when in Edmonton this past summer, described the Lowe fastball as being a live pitch which "bores in" toward the hitter.

Getting a crack in the organized end of the game represents the realization of a baseball dream for Dick and his mother, Mrs. M. E. Lowe. While Dick was in his early teens his father spent many happy hours during the long summer evenings playing catch with his son. It was dramatic irony, perhaps, that in the fall of 1946 Mr. Lowe died of a heart attack, some six months before a Dodger scout was to say to Dick:

"We like your stuff, kid. Will you sign this contract with Brooklyn?"

Mrs. Lowe was behind her boy all the way in his decision to sign that contract and learn the baseball trade. In his absence during the past summer she kept the farm in operation.

BLAZING A TRAIL

There are those who believe Lowe is blazing a baseball trail for the young men of Edmonton. He was the first Junior League product to crash organized ball from these parts. The Dodgers already are after others, including Eric Wigeland and Don Simon.

The last Edmonton resident to pitch baseballs for pay in the States was Leroy Goldsworthy. It was some 15 years ago that the American-born Goldy had his innings in the Northern League.

And so Dick Lowe is returned for a quiet winter on the farm. But come March he'll be on his way to spring training with the hundreds of young men who throng to the Dodger Camps. Why?

That is best answered in his own words.

Leaf Gridders Train Sights On Alberta Title at Calgary

Edmonton Maple Leafs leave at noon Saturday for Calgary and a crack at the West End Tornadoes in the provincial junior football final. The playoff will be a sudden death game under the lights at Mewata Park that night.

Coach John Farina announced Thursday that 23 men would comprise the Maple Leaf team and will line-up as follows:

Ken Johannson and Gerry Krause, two regulars with the club earlier in the season, will not make the trip. Johannson has a bad arm and Krause has transferred his allegiance to the Varsity Golden Bears.

LEFT AT HOME

Farina also revealed that the Leafs would be unable to use Doug McNabb, Ilae Enright, and Harry Scott of the EAC. Alberta junior football rules forbids so-called all-star teams from entering championship play, hence the trio of Clubmen must be left at home.

As it is Farina has a line averaging 170 pounds and a backfield which tips the scales at 175. Gord Pearce displaces the most volume on the squad, something like 210 pounds.

"We will vary our offensive between the T-formation and Notre Dame box," Farina said, "with Mendryk being our passing spark on the T."

"GOOD AND SCRAPPY"

Farina describes the line as being "good and scrappy" and the backfield equal to that which the Tornadoes might possess.

The coach was pretty sure the Bluebirds could wallop the Calgarians and thus bring the provincial crown to Edmonton for the first time since 1940.

"Our only worry is the lack of a substitute for centre Don Barry," said he. "Apart from that we have sufficient, although not plentiful, reserve strength."

Provision was made by the playoff officials for one Edmonton umpire to assist in handling the game. However, Farina said he would take his chances on Calgary officiating and has declined taking any local referees on the trip.

Robinson Will Defend Title

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(BUP)—Ray Robinson said Thursday he would defend his welterweight title for the Tournament of Champions against either Charlie Fusari or Tippy Larkin, two New Jersey lab specialists.

Fusari meets Larkin at Jersey City Armory, Oct. 21, and Robinson said he would meet the winner of that bout. The Harlem negro made the announcement to spike reports that he no longer was able to get down to the 147-pound limit.

Robinson added that he was not forgetting Kid Gavilan of Cuba and said he would take on "all worthy challengers" after he defends his title against either Fusari or Larkin.

Robinson also is scheduled to fight for the Tournament of Champions on Dec. 2 when he tangles with middleweight Steve Belloise in a 10-round bout at Jersey City.

Pro Basketball Fades on Coast

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 15.—(CP)—A two-year attempt to establish professional basketball in the Pacific Northwest was abandoned Thursday.

President Ray W. Clark of the Pacific Coast Professional Basketball League said plans for the 1948-49 season were being called off, but an attempt might be made to resume in 1949-50.

He blamed inability of Portland and Seattle teams to get suitable floors.

Mangrum Low At Glendale

GLENDALE, Calif., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago knocked six strokes off par for a 66 to take the lead at the end of the first 18 holes Thursday in the inaugural $15,000 Glendale open golf tournament.

With the favored Ben Hogan three strokes back, Mangrum put together rounds of 36-30—66 for the Oakmont Country Club's par 36-36—72.

Hogan played near-flawless golf to shoot 35-34—69 and launch his usual solid bid for top money of $2,450.

Two shots back of Mangrum when the firing was over late yesterday was Johnny Bulla, Phoenix, Ariz., with 34-34—68, while bracketed with Hogan in the 69's were Porky Oliver of Seattle with 35-34 and Zell Eaton of Montebello, Calif., with 33-36.

Belgian Turf Champ May Oppose Citation Saturday

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Chances that Bayeux, the Belgian champion, will join the field opposing Citation in Saturday's $100,000 Empire City International Gold Cup, were boosted considerably Thursday.

A Belmont Park veterinarian reported the four-year-old colt suffered only superficial injuries when he reared in his stall while flying the Atlantic Monday. He bruised the hocks on his hind legs.

"We can't say for sure, of course," said his trainer, Albert Vandesteene, "but if he improves as much by today as in the last 24 hours, he'll be all right."

Bayeux and the English colt, Nathoo, are the only European horses expected to meet the American triple-crown champion in the mile-and-five-furlong classic. They came to New York on the same plane, but Nathoo never batted an eye at the trip, his handlers said.

James Butler, Empire City president who inaugurated the international event won the first time a year ago by Stymie, said the French filly, Madelon, would not start.

Ted Atkinson, the Toronto-born jockey who will ride Nathoo, galloped the rangy grey three-year-old this morning, then sent him from the starting gate twice without trouble. Foreign horses do not use the gate to start, but Nathoo took to it just like he did his plane trip.

Rookie Gets Trio As Caps Win 5-1

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Twenty-year-old Jerry Reid, playing his first professional hockey game, scored three goals as Indianapolis Capitals scored a 5-1 victory over Buffalo Bisons Thursday night.

Cleveland Stands Pat On Championship Club

CLEVELAND, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Cleveland Indians won't need much overhauling for defence of their world championship, President Bill Veeck said Thursday.

"Of course, that doesn't mean we'll repeat but we'll be up there with the best of them," Bill hastened to add.

Veeck conceded that "we can't stand pat completely. No team should adopt that attitude. But I don't think many changes will be necessary.

"We have a pitching staff that is good for five more years," Veeck said. "Our outfield is one of the best and there isn't a better catcher in the league than Jim Hegan.

"With the exception of (Eddie) Robinson at first, our infield is past the mark, but I'm looking for another good year from (Lou) Boudreau, (Ken) Keltner and (Joe) Gordon.

"Out pitching looks awfully good to me. Gene Bearden and Bob Lemon both won 20 games.

"Bob Feller will come back. In fact, he did come back this year in spite of the fact he lost two series games. A lot of people overlook the fact that he helped us tremendously in the stretch drive. Remember, he won seven straight before Hal Newhouser beat us and forced us into that playoff with the Red Sox. Nobody could have beaten Newhouser that day."

The Indians' president was noncommittal on the subject of whether Boudreau would receive a new managerial contract. The old two-year document runs through next season.

"That's one of the items we will take up when we get to it," Bill said.

Time Out

With Dick Beddoes

Meet John Farina, The Prophet

I listened with interest to some remarks delivered the other day by Mr. John Farina, beginning with the statement that his Maple Leafs will win the Alberta junior football title. Leafs play in Calgary tomorrow. John uttered this message with a poker face, in a firm, crisp tone of voice which suggested that if you cared to argue the point you would do him a favor by arguing it with someone else.

As far as he is concerned, Edmonton will win its first championship in 10 years, and may retain it for some years to come.

It might be pointed out at this time that the Leafs face the West End Tornadoes in Saturday's battle. The latter are very rugged characters in general and have had a priority on the Alberta crown for several seasons now.

He's Got a Hungry Team

However, Coach Farina maintains that a hungry team is a dangerous one. From that statement you must suppose that the Leafs are a starved group of young men and will literally wolf down the unsuspecting Tornadoes.

Mr. Farina went on to say that if weather is right his lads plan to open up the game with a razzle dazzle passing attack operating off the T-formation. The strategy in case the weather is wet and windy, he said, will call for the Leafs to kick frequently and play for the breaks.

He then surveyed the situation at will and touched on the key players at his command.

"We will have the best kicker in the park," he said decisively, "in the person of Jack Ross. Calgary has no booter in the same class."

There isn't much doubt that a Jack Ross in good condition has the best educated toe on the local junior scene, and there can be no more reliable witness on this score than Mr. Farina.

"We have a smart field general in quarterback Steve Mendryk," added the coach, "and you can't overlook fast halfbacks like Don Simon and Bill Aubrey. And Gord Pearce at fullback is a good boy too."

Huskies Are Here Again

At Clarke Stadium tomorrow Saskatchewan Huskies and Alberta Golden Bears close out their four-game intercollegiate series for the Hardy Cup. Thus far the annual Huskie-Bear package has been pretty empty from a competitive point of view, what with the Albertans winning the first three games by scores of 21-5, 45-12, and 17-0.

It is too bad that one of the greatest Golden Bear teams in history should be involved in a series of such lopsided proportions. And people are beginning to ask how long the athletic moguls at the U. of A. can keep on presenting such merchandise as the Huskie games and still stay in the football business.

For the record, Saskatchewan hasn't beaten Alberta since 1945. Reports have it that Fran Pyne and Bill Neale, a pair of new coaches with the Huskies this year, may come up with something different in 1949.

The only different thing could be a winning team. That is all that will save the annual Hardy Cup series from being sidetracked into the bush leagues.

About People And Things

There is a star-studded men's basketball team hovering on the Edmonton horizon. At the moment Bob (Lefty) Strother, one-time Varsity Golden Bear star, has the club in hand and he's looking for a sponsor with ready cash . . . Among the players slated to appear with Strother are John Higgins, Steve Mendryk, Norm Kimber, Jack Casey and Don Blue. Boyd (Shadow) Oberhoffner, colorful Varsity centre in other seasons, is also expected to line up with the team.

Eric Hernblad, director of baseball for the Canadian Athletic Club, will represent Edmonton interests at the annual Alberta Junior Baseball association meeting in Calgary on Sunday . . . Gordon Moore, manager of Canadians during the past season, plans to accompany Hernblad.

Included among those still alive in the intramural tennis tournament on the university campus are Jim Hume, Scotty Sherriff, Pat Woodcock, Ed Trott, S. Haynes, Pete Willson, H. Holmes, Bill Karney, Bob Duthie, Ken Grierson, and Bill Costigan.

Take-it-for-what-it's-worth department: Edmonton Maple Leafs should polish off the Calgary West End Tornadoes Saturday by one touchdown, and the Golden Bears will enjoy a 20-point margin over Saskatchewan Huskies.

McNally the Spark Of St. Joe's Club

By Jim McCurdy

An 18-year-old fuzzy-cheeked youngster, whose ambition is to become a professional hockey player, is the sparkplug behind the St. Joe's 'Fighting Irish' team in the Senior high school football league.

Blonde Bill McNally has crossed the goal line of his team's opposition four times and added two converts to pick up 22 points—more than half of the 37 St. Joe's have run up. He ranks behind only Doug Swail of Scona, who was 28 points.

COMPACT BUILD

Deceiving in appearance, the young half-back has 158 pounds spread over his 5 foot 7½ inch frame and he uses his compactness to good advantage in his line plunges.

Although he has yet to throw his first pass this season—his turn comes on several trick plays—his reputation as a flipper is good. He also is his team's conversion man.

A HOCKEY STAR

A member of the Maple Leaf junior hockey club of this city, McNally was one of the club's stars last season as they won the city championship before bowing to Wetaskiwin Canadians in the northern Alberta junior final.

He will be back with Maple Leafs again this season.

HUSKIES TACKLE BEARS SATURDAY

Saskatchewan Huskies will play the Alberta Golden Bears in inter-Varsity football at Clarke Stadium Saturday afternoon but the game will be strictly an exhibition affair.

Starting time is 2:30 o'clock.

The Bears already have won the Hardy Cup by virtue of three earlier victories and will likely delight the alumni in the homecoming crowd with their fourth win of the season over the Huskies. Previous scores have been 21-5, 45-12 and 17-0.

O'Connor 'Steams Up' Over MacDonald - Beckett Fight

Barney O'Connor is no Pollyanna gent, even when it comes to a fighter in whom he happens to have a keen interest.

Thursday he was letting off steam about the Roddy MacDonald - Cliff Beckett near - fiasco which promoter Tommy Farr passed off on Calgary fight followers in the Victoria pavilion Wednesday night.

"That Beckett carried on like a rank amateur," MacDonald's acting manager fumed. "If he ever really climbed into a ring with either 'Tony' Zale or 'Sugar Ray' Robinson, as his advance publicity had it, he's lucky to still be alive."

It appears that Beckett didn't have it. Also it seems that MacDonald, despite the fact that he slugged the easterner into dreamland along about the fifth heat, looked pretty much what he was—a guy who was just starting out on the comeback trail.

He was rusty. Even manager O'Connor admits as much.

"To start, Roddy was too cautious," O'Connor analyzed the performance of the Edmonton policeman. "Then when he realized that Beckett was just a so't touch he went to the other extreme . . . became over-anxious.

"But I know this," his manager went on. "Roddy can make good on his comeback hopes. He showed enough for that."

All of which means that MacDonald isn't ready for Gordon Ross, the Canadian middleweight king. "No. We don't want him for five or six fights yet," O'Connor admitted.

Also he had some pungent remarks to make about the calibre of promoter Farr's card as a whole. "Except for the Dolan-Kilgour bout it loused up the pavilion. If we tried to palm off anything like that on Edmonton fight fans they'd laugh us out of town."

In the meantime it would appear that MacDonald's come-back program should include a scrap before the hometown folks as the next step.

For the first time in years the stock pavilion near the Arena offers a natural site for a card. A promoter could put better than 3,000 into the pavilion, without cramping anyone's style. With a few of such proportions it ought to be possible to put fighting on a paying basis.

The big question: "Who's going to take on the mantle of Matchmaker of Maul?"

They say what this country needs is a good five-cent cigar. But closer to home what Edmonton needs is a wide awake promoter-matchmaker. Then a potentially top-grade fight town wouldn't be slithering on the vine.

EAC JUNIORS 'HIT THE ROAD'

Edmonton Athletic club's junior hockey team is the first city ice squad to hit the road this season—they are playing in Medicine Hat tonight and tomorrow night. They will tangle with Joe Fisher's Tigers in the Hat.

Manager Ernie Smalian will be in charge of the party of 20 due to leave Edmonton Friday morning by bus. Coach Cooney LeFeuvre, trainer Jim Crape and stickboy "Peanuts" Cantera are other non-players making the trip.

Wally Laubman, Don Perry, Dave Little, George McAvoy, Bob Losie, Jules Soetart, Duke Edmondson, Ken Head, Gil Lauze, Jack Schofield, Al Bryant, Bill MacPherson, Orest Stogryn, Stu Robertson, Dave Astley and Dale McKee are the 16 players on the team.

St. Joe's Juniors Drub Westglen 26-0

Upwards of 100 fans witnessed Escallier dash over the goal line for three touchdowns. Jim Kinsmen plunged over for two major scores and kicked the lone convert of the game.

After a scoreless first quarter fullback Escallier put the Sep squad on the march. He whipped around end from the Westglen 12-yard line early in the second quarter for his first touchdown.

The convert was missed and St. Joe's led 5-0 at half time.

Escallier carried the mail for a major score in the third quarter after recovering a fumble on the Westglen 15-yard stripe. In the fourth stanza Kinsmen plunged from the Westglen 10 and Escallier knifed through a hole from 11 yards out to give St. Joe's a 20-0 margin.

On the last play of the game Vince Meyers ran the ball back from the Westglen 20 before fumbling on the goal line. Kinsmen recovered, however, and shoved into the end zone for a touchdown which he converted.

Final score: St. Joe's 26, Westglen 0.

Westglen threatened only in the first quarter. After that quarterbacks Phillon and McGregor engineered a brilliant ground attack as Sep marched down the field.

U of A to Greet Alumni Group

Saskatchewan Students Also To Be Visitors

University of Alberta campus is going to be a busy place this week-end.

In addition to the return of more than 200 Varsity graduates who will attend annual Alumni Homecoming celebrations, the campus will be invaded by 300 students from the University of Saskatchewan.

When about 75 U. of A. students accompanied the Golden Bear football team to Saskatoon last Monday to visit the U. of S. campus, the Saskatchewan students promised they would repay the visit as soon as they could.

SPECIAL TRAIN

When Saskatchewan football team, the Huskies, arrive in Edmonton Saturday morning, they will be accompanied by a special trainload of 300 U. of S. students eager to see their neighboring university. The train is expected to arrive at the CNR station at 10 a.m.

The Saskatchewan students will be entertained on the Alberta Varsity campus, see the football game in the afternoon, and attend a dance being held in their honor Saturday night.

U. of A. alumni will visit their Alma Mater today.

PAPER IS PRINTED

Special edition of The Gateway, student newspaper, has been printed for the Alumni Weekend. The paper reviews each University year since 1922, as a "reminiscence" edition for the returning graduates. In addition to the 4,200 students on the campus, the 9,000 U. of A. alumni all over the world will receive copies of the student paper by mail.

First activity of the three-day homecoming event will be a variety show, to be staged tonight in Convocation Hall by alumni and students. Humor will be the theme of the show, which begins at 8 p.m. Skits, vaudeville, routines, and songs of 25 years ago will be included on the program.

Graduating class of 1923, which celebrates its 25th anniversary this year, will be special guests of the present students.

FOOTBALL PARADE

Saturday afternoon, the annual football parade will travel through downtown Edmonton to Clarke Stadium preparatory to the Golden Bear-Huskie football game. Floats representing Varsity faculties and schools will be included.

Banquet for visiting alumni will be held in the Varsity cafeteria Saturday night, beginning at 7 o'clock. Toastmaster will be Bernard Bowlen, president of the Students' Union, and guest speaker F. P. Whitman, MP Montreal, member of the class of '23.

DANCES ARRANGED

Alumni will then attend a dance in Athabaska Hall, while students entertain U of S visitors at another dance in the Educational building.

Special church service for alumni and students will be held Sunday morning in Convocation Hall.

Minister will be Rev. J. E. Kirk, of Lamont, member of the class of '23. About 70 members of the Mixed Chorus will form the choir. Director of Alumni weekend activities is Merle Summers, second year agriculture student

B.C. Artists To Perform

Program to be presented Saturday by two young British Columbia artists was announced Thursday by Victor A. Beringer, of the Canadian Federation of Music Teachers' Association, which is sponsoring the concert in conjunction with the Women's Musical Club.

Saturday's recital begins at 3 o'clock in the Masonic Temple. The artists will be Joan Milloy, pianist from Victoria, and Malcolm Tait, 17-year-old 'cellist from Vancouver.

Their program:

Mr. Tait: Variations Symphoniques, Op. 23, Boellmann; Miss Milloy: Sonata in C Minor, Op. 8, No. 13, Beethoven.

Mr. Tait: Sur le Lac, Op. 31, No. 1, Godard; Scherzo, Op. 12, No. 2, Van Goens; The Swan, Saint-Saens; March, Op. 65, Prokofieff; Miss Milloy: Etude in C Minor, Op. 10, No. 12, Chopin; Sea Idyll, Bridge; Polonaise in E Major, Liszt.

Little Interest In Civic Election

Interest in the November 3 municipal election appears to be at the lowest ebb in the city's history if voters' lists revision figures are any indication.

Since the court of revision opened Tuesday George W. Archibald has had to deal with only one application to have a name added to the lists.

Big Opium Seizure

MELBOURNE, Oct. 15.—(Reuters)—Australian customs men yesterday seized 330 pounds of opium worth about $33,000 aboard the 5,975-ton motor ship Chanda.

Travellers Open New Search For Talent

Each Saturday evening for the next 25 weeks the traveller's showboat will visit some northern Alberta town in search of amateur artists and will present a three hour show in the respective towns leading auditorium.

These shows are jointly sponsored by the travellers and radio station CFRN, with all proceeds being turned over to the ACT Crippled Children's Fund.

Last year the troupe raised more than $10,000 during their campaign tour of the towns and as a result several crippled kiddies are today receiving care and treatment they otherwise would not have had.

This year's showboat promises to be bigger and better than ever and talented Frank Herman will again emcee each performance.

The first show will be held Saturday evening in the Ponoka Arena, and will get underway at 7:00 p.m.

The shows will be recorded and broadcast every Monday evening over CFRN, thus enabling contestant to hear themselves and judge their individual talents.

Folks are reminded that all proceeds will be turned over to the Crippled Children's fund to provide hospital and surgical treatment for unfortunate children suffering from twisted limbs and bodies.

RCMP Court Nets $208 In Fines

RCMP highway patrol's weekly roundup in police court Thursday resulted in 16 traffic miscreants paying a total of $208 in fines.

Heaviest penalties went to Donald J. McLellan, 6401 118 avenue and Alexander J. Olynyk, 10121 79 avenue, who were each fined $50 and costs for dangerous driving on the Edmonton-Athabasca highway.

McLellan was involved in a traffic accident October 4 in which he was found guilty of negligence. Olynyk was apprehended Sept. 11.

David Kaiser, who lives on the corner of 101 street and 64 avenue, was fined $20 on a charge of causing a disturbance on the Edmonton-Calgary highway August 28. Charge arose out of an altercation with a truck driver.

Other charges originating in minor violations of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act, and the Public Service Vehicles Act resulted in nominal fines of $5 and $10.

Passion Play In Extra Show

An extra performance of the Black Hills Passion play has been announced by the Edmonton Rotary Club for Saturday at 2:30 p.m.

Capacity audiences have prevailed at both matinee and evening performances of the production, according to an announcement made today.

Following close of the Edmonton performance, the play will journey to Calgary for one week and then to the U.S.

CPA Moving Staff Here

Canadian Pacific Airlines Co. is transferring 100 office and other personnel to Edmonton from Winnipeg, in connection with the setting up of domestic operational headquarters here, Mayor Harry Ainlay stated Thursday.

The city, Mayor Ainlay stated, is securing an H-shaped structure at the airport to be used as office headquarters by the company.

At present office operations are being carried on in improvised space in an airport hangar.

Mayor Ainlay said the transfer of the structure to the city will be completed within the next few days.

Oriental Costumes, Instruments To Feature Benevolent Concert Sunday

FEMALE IMPERSONATOR Mark Tee Mee robed in traditional Chinese costume for his role of daughter, Chang Fay Ming, at Thursday night rehearsal of "Those Who Survive", a play of contemporary China. Presented by Chinese Dramatic Club with proceeds for hospitalization of aged Chinese, sole performance will be 8:30 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 17 at Memorial Hall.

ACTUALLY TWO MEN, but sister and brother in play, are Mark Tee Mee as the daughter and Chan Shu Lui as first son. Costumes were made in Edmonton but are faithful copies of those used for last 2,000 years. Two-hour play with its many short acts, concentrates on post-war struggle of the family unit. That family triumphs is indicated by title.

LEADING PLAYERS in 16-act drama are Chan Shu Lui as first son, Chang Tai and Mary Wong as sister-in-law, Young Mrs. Chang. Edmonton Chinese Benevolent Association is sponsoring play, which according to Association secretary Bing Mah, was written by several young local Chinese. Story is of China's struggle to rebuild after eight years of strife and disorder.

PLAYING PECULIAR instruments to the occidental eye and ear are two musicians who will play accompaniment for "Those Who Survive." From left are George M. Poon with a Chinese banjo, and Yee Yee with a two-string Chinese fiddle.

MOST RESPLENDENT of actors with his large and colorful headpiece is Mah Wai Li who plays The Collector, one of the nine roles in play. "Those Who Survive" is open to public and Mr. Wah advises that a collection will be taken at the door.

United Keno Strike New Gold-Silver Vein

Development of a new gold, lead, zinc and silver vein, discovered recently by United Keno Hill Mines Ltd. in the Yukon, will begin next Spring.

New discovery is on the company's property about seven miles from current operations now producing lead and silver. It was discovered by trenching with a bulldozer.

A 700-foot horizontal shaft will be cut to intersect the vein at vertical depth of 200 feet when development begins in the spring.

Surface bulk sampling of the discovery showed silver values ranging from $37.50 to $75 per ton, with grab samples yielding up to $187.50 per ton. Lead and zinc were also shown.

United Keno Hill Hector, Calumet and Elsa mines yielded a total of 3,650,000 ounces of silver and 3,750,000 pounds of lead during the past season. Last winter carry over is included in the figures. Total value of the production is about $2,000,000.

Clearing House

Clearing house figures in Edmonton continued on the upswing this week when a total of $15,604,363 was tabulated, compared with $12,063,435 for the corresponding week last year.

'Deal' Story Heard At Murder Hearing

Zacharuik's Movements Related by Witnesses

Mike Zacharuik talked of a "deal" he had for farm machinery and a car in the Spedden district, two Crown witnesses testified in supreme criminal court Thursday.

Trial of the young Hairy Hills district farmhand for the murder of his employer, William Pacholek, dear Spedden last May, continues before Mr. Justice C. J. Ford and a jury.

Metro Shugliak, storekeeper at the Deajarlais ferry crossing and Niek Kachuk, who lives two miles from the accused's farm home, both heard Zacharuik talk about a "deal" in the Spedden district.

TELLS OF CONVERSATION

Accused had visited Shugliak's store on May 12, arriving on horseback around the noon hour.

"He said he was going to Spedden to get a tractor, car, wagon and nine hogs he was selling that a neighbor had on a half share basis," the storekeeper testified.

Zacharuik was at the store late on the night of May 14 and remained overnight. He told Shugliak on that occasion his car was stalled on a hill two or three miles from the river ferry.

Witness said Zacharuik had returned the next day in a 1934 Plymouth coupe with a broken handle on the right door.

"Is that the same car you viewed outside the courthouse on the first day of this trial?" Crown Prosecutor Shortreed asked.

"It is the same car I saw Zacharuik with on May 15," witness replied.

Testimony given previously by RCMP witnesses had identified the coupe as the property of the slain man, William Pacholek.

Shugliak said that Zacharuik had asked him to cash a Canadian Wheat Board grain cheque, but witness had not sufficient money on hand. Cheque was for a sum in excess of $200, he testified.

"Did you get the impression from taking to Zacharuik that he had made or was making a deal for machinery and the car with some one in the Spedden district?" Defence Counsel Frank Dunne asked.

"Yes, that was the impression I had," witness replied.

SAY MACHINERY FOUND

Kachuk said accused had borrowed a saddle from him early in May and returned it on May 15.

"He took the saddle out of a trunk on the rear of the Plymouth car and said he had made some kind of a deal in the Spedden district for farm machinery," Kachuk testified. He told Kachuk he was "going back" for the machinery.

Kachuk also identified the Plymouth coupe Zacharuik drove on May 15 as the one entered as an exhibit in the murder trial here last Tuesday.

Testimony of several other crown witnesses Thursday was focussed on the movements of Zacharuik on May 14 last.

American Capital to Finance Continental Drill Program

One-hundred thousand shares of preferred stock, with a total value of $1,500,000, will be issued on the U.S. market by Continental Oil Company of Canada Limited.

Announcement of the financing move was made today in Edmonton by Strabo V. Claggett, president of the Whitney-Phoenix Company of New York, underwriters of the deal.

The announcement followed discussions between Mr. Claggett and officials of the Continental Oil Company of Canada, Limited.

It is estimated the funds, which will net the company $1,500,000, will produce capital for drilling 24 additional wells.

The preferred stock will be convertible with the company reserving the right to make payment half in common stock and half in cash.

Mr. Claggett pointed out that this is an entirely new type of oil financing.

The stock, he said, by reason of its convertibility, becomes both an investment and a speculation.

The preferred stock will participate up to $1.00 per share, with an additional 50 cents cents payable upon payment of 50 cents for each 20 shares of common stock.

The company reserves the right to call in preferred stock at $20 per share, or on a basis of $10 cash and 10 shares of common stock. Conversion of preferred stock by the stockholder will be made on the same basis.

This type of financing, said Mr. Claggett, will attract a different or semi-conservative type of investor. It will take the oil business out of the penny or dollar class of financing.

Success of the venture, he predicted, will release "virtually unlimited funds for the development of this company and/or any other."

Mr. Claggett, and one other American, as yet un-named, will be made directors of the company to represent American interests.

"We expect to make Continental a sizeable, independent company," he declared, "and if this works out we can bring anywhere from 10 to 50 millions into this field."

The stock will also be marketed in England and Canada, he said.

Prairie Chicken Dish For Thrifty Family

By Ben Thrifty

And that's just exactly what happened yesterday. A most charming benefactor whipped into the office and presented me with a beautiful prairie chicken.

Accompanying the chicken was an infallible recipe, which, out of the goodness of my heart, I shall disclose to you.

Cut each joint separately. Have ready a frying pan with very hot bacon fat or butter and brown very quickly on both sides to hold in the meat juices. Place in a large-bottom sauce pan containing hot water (just enough to barely cover the chicken), add pepper and salt and onion.

• • •

But you ain't heard nothin' . . . there's dumplings besides. Use your favorite dumpling recipe . . . adding a smidgin of parsley or save, drop by spoonfuls in the hot liquid and steam for ten minutes COVERED.

And was this ever good . . . mmmmmm . . . . .

• • •

Lots of peachy bargains this week-end. Bargains on a lot of little things for around the house . . . that you've had on the "must" list for simply ages.

Half a dozen plastic glasses (I'm forever breaking kitchen glasses). They only cost 5c a piece.

A pair of wedgie slippers to wear about the house . . . I go through more pairs of slippers in less time. These are a real bargain at a mere 69c per pair.

And a special sale of chopped olives will let me have two jars for 35c . . . jes' love olives, chopped or otherwise.

Oh . . . and this is what I really need . . . . a rubber dish drainer. Usually they sell at least for $1.95 . . . but a sale price is listed at $1.29 . . . it's off to the stores for me right this very moment.

• • •

Balance of mood of atmosphere of your room depends on color selection. Each of the colors has a definite mood or influence, wherever it is used.

When a room or house seems to be out of balance in its appearance . . . if the room seems too long, or too wide, color can come to the rescue because of the interesting illusions it creates.

• • •

Light colors, tints and pastels always create an airy, spacious feeling in a room, while dark colors seem to hem in or limit the space. Hence light tints or greyed tones are ideal for a small room. Large barn-like rooms can profitably use darker, heavier colors to give a cosy atmosphere.

• • •

Too high ceilings can be "brought down" in the room scheme by applying a color on the ceiling that is darker and more 'advancing' than that used on the side walls.

Parsons-Williams Vows Pledged Here Thursday

Autumn flowers decorated the parlor of McDougall United Church Thursday at 5 p.m. when June Louise Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Williams, became the bride of Ralph Parsons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Parsons, all of Edmonton.

Rev. Wesley Bainbridge performed the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding gown was of heavy brocaded satin fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and short train.

Her chapel veil was held in place by an orange blossom coronet and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Miriam Williams attended her sister. She was in pastel blue velvet, her gown styled with short sleeves and pannier at the waist. She wore matching mittens and blue lace hat with forget-me-not trim. Her bouquet was of white carnations and baby chrysanthemums.

Kenneth Parsons was his brother's best man.

Mrs. S. H. Keeling played the wedding music.

A reception was held at the Corona hotel where a three-tier cake flanked by autumn flowers and tapers centred the bride's table.

Mrs. Williams was in two-piece grey crepe with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mrs. Parsons chose for her son's wedding a rust crepe model with black accessories and gardenia corsage.

T. Davis and Pat Janes sang vocal solos.

Young Canadians To Give Saturday Concert

Joan Milloy and Malcolm Tait Will Present Piano, Cello Recital

Women's Musical Club of Edmonton and Edmonton Music Teachers' Association will present two young artists in concert at Masonic Temple Saturday at 3 p.m.

Pianist will be Miss Joan Milloy of Victoria, B.C., and cellist is Malcolm Tait of Vancouver.

He has appeared with Seattle Symphony Orchestra and is generally regarded as having a bright musical future. The family of four boys and two girls have played together in their own orchestra for some time.

Program for the concert is as follows: Variations Symphoniques Opus 23, Beellmann, Malcolm Tait; Sonata in C Minor, Opus 8, No. 13, Beethoven, Joan Milloy.

Next concert will be held Nov. 6 when artists will be Joyce Lee Moore, pianist, and Sherrill Lanyon, soprano.

Bunny Robb Widely Feted

Continuing a gay round of pre-nuptila parties honoring Miss Bunny Robb, whose marriage to Thomas Emberly Hale takes place next week, Mrs. J. A. Stenton, and Miss Bernice Stenton entertained 12 guests at a miscellaneous shower recently.

Also feting Miss Robb, Miss Joan Dodds entertained members of the Phiat sorority at the home of her parents. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage and gifts of kitchen ware.

Twenty guests gathered at the home of Mrs. T. Ramsey, when Miss Jean Ramsey and Miss Barbara Blackett were co-hostesses at a shower for Miss Robb, who was presented with a gift of sterling silver.

Former Edmonton Girl Wed in San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 15.—Of interest to a wide circle of friends in Edmonton where the bride formerly resided, is the recent wedding of Juanita Fay Porter, of San Francisco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Porter, of Fairbanks, Alaska, and Albert J. MacJennett, son of Mr. A. J. MacJennett, of Detroit.

Rev. J. H. Creighton performed the ceremony in First Presbyterian Church, San Francisco, before an altar banked with baskets of white daisies and chrysanthemums.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Robert F. Porter, wore a gown of traditional white satin. The fitted bodice was fashioned with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves, and the full skirt terminated in a train. From a tiara outlined with seed pearls fell a veil of embroidered tulle, which had been worn by the bride's mother on her wedding day. She carried a bouquet of orchids and white carnations, and a single strand of pearls was her only jewelry.

Miss Eileen Porter, of Edmonton, attended her sister as maid of honor. Her bouffant dress of yellow marquisette over taffeta was styled with a high neck and short sleeves, and she wore matching yellow gloves.

Bridesmaids were Miss Shirley Porter, sister of the bride, from Fairbanks, and Miss Lee Curry. Their gowns of blue marquisette over taffeta were similar to that of the maid of honor, but had long sleeves. All three attendants wore floral headdresses of white carnations and carried floral arrangements of white carnations and gold ribbon.

Dr. William Neff was best man and the guests were ushered by Charles Bunting and Richard Richert.

Wedding music was played by Clarence Robinson, and several selections were sung by Miss Frances Steele.

Buffet supper was served at a reception following the ceremony, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Neff. White crysanthemums were used as decoration throughout the rooms and on the bride's table, which was centred with a three tiered wedding cake embedded in gardenias.

Miss Hodgson Heads Baptist CGIT Group

Novelty Whist Drive Scheduled Friday

Novelty whist will be held tonight in the Eagles Hall, 9216 115 Avenue, by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles. Two hands of whist will be played, commencing at 8:30. There will also be bridge.

Comic strips were not used in daily newspapers until the 1890's.

Mrs. G. E. Swallow New President Women's Society, Museum of Arts

Mrs. G. E. Swallow will succeed Mrs. E. W. S. Kane as president of Women's Society, Museum of Arts.

Mrs. Swallow was elected at the annual meeting held Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Kane has served two terms as president.

Patronesses include Mrs. J. C. Bowen, Mrs. E. C. Manning, Mrs. Robert Newton and Mrs. W. F. Barfoot. Mrs. R. B. Wells is founder.

In the president's report, Mrs. Kane explained Women's Society as a working group within a larger membership. Any woman member of Museum who wishes to promote its work may belong.

Giving an outline of the year's activities, Mrs. Kane mentioned the scholarship to Banff School of Fine Arts given to Miss Jacqueline Lutz, an outstanding student at the Museum.

In appreciation of Mrs. Kane's work, Mrs. R. M. Dingwall presented her with a corsage on behalf of the executive.

Mrs. E. B. Wilson in treasurer's report, announced that $1,475.96 had been raised by Women's Society in the past year.

Women members are already working on articles for Christmas sale to be held Nov. 30. This sale is also an outlet for crafts made by other workers in the city.

R. W. Hedley asked for co-operation and backing of members in opening the museum Sunday afternoons. Two women will attend each Sunday, arranging for the program.

A letter of best wishes and congratulations from Mrs. E. C. Manning was read.

Other officers elected included Mrs. P. J. A. Fleming, first vice-president; Mrs. Julian Garrett, second vice-president; Mrs. D. Redford, secretary; Mrs. E. B. Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. Cecil Rutherford, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. M. Dingwall, press secretary; Mrs. H. C. Gourlay, convener, refreshment committee; Mrs. Morton Hall and Miss Isobel Seeord, convener, shop committee.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

by DOLORES KIMBALL

More important than ever are the moire taffetas, shot silks, satins, lames, bengalines . . . in their use as accents with wool crepe, rayons and silks and even heavier woolen fabrics.

That's dry cleaning. There are problems galore which are being concentrated upon by research workers throughout the continent.

In Edmonton this week-end is F. Finlayson of the National Research Council. For the past while he has been busying himself with problems of fabric manufacture and dry-cleaning.

He had all kinds of gem-like tidbits of information to disclose. Things such as the statement that within six months, there will be no more unservicable bells manufactured.

Evidently there is a new treatment o' watered silks, moires and taffetas which keeps them crisp and rustling as long as the material wears.

Watered silks have never resisted water very strongly. But with the new processes . . . water will have absolutely no affect on the silk.

* * *

Another gem he offered was that new-type plastic buttons are in the process of manufacture . . . buttons which will not melt or change shape in dry cleaning.

* * *

Within a year it will be possible, said Mr. Finlayson, to buy fabrics and garments carrying a seal of approval "certified washable." There is much ado between manufacturers and the research council over the production of fabrics readily harmed by water. The council is needling manufacturers into producing only washable materials.

Some raincoats sold now are damaged by water and have to be dry cleaned all the time. A raincoat without any resistance to rain isn't much use to anyone, is it?

Hospital League Busy Planning Annual Bazaar

Annual Bazaar of the Junior Hospital League will be held Nov. 5 in the Troeadero Ballroom, it was reported by Mrs. Allan Hall at a recent meeting. As an added feature this year, tea will be served.

Tea convener will be Mrs. W. H. B. Wilson, assisted by Mrs. R. M. Cockburn.

Convener of the bazaar will be Mrs. Allan Hall, assisted by Mrs. Walter Mackenzie, Mrs. J. M. Jones, Mrs. G. K. Morton, Mrs. George E. Poole, Mrs. M. E. Manning, Mrs. Paul Seddleum, Mrs. Allan Lobsinger, Mrs. Neil Primrose, Mrs. Roy Harrison.

Practical and Pretty Home Accessories Expand Storage Space in Small Homes

Mrs. Housewife's yiles for more storage space than her existing closets provide has spurred the bright-idea boys into designing efficient auxiliary aids.

New series of matching bedroom accessories, for example, gives the insistant Mrs. H. expandable closets in the guise of window seats, hassocks and wardrobes.

Finished in an unobtrusive wood-grained paper, these nine-inch high units are mounted on wheels for easy maneuverability. Tight-fitting lids keep out dust.

Parents who have been sharing cramped drawer and closet space with their offspring will welcome the appearance of a new "chiffo-

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Retired Businessman Develops Chronic Ills

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband has retired from business and is in the house most of the time.

He is always complaining that he is not well and is continually taking some kind of medicine.

He can't even put on his clothes without my help. But if I go away for a while he is perfectly well and has no difficulty in doing everything for himself.

Can you suggest some way of breaking him of the habit of using me to wait on him all of the time? I have a large home and I am kept very busy doing the household chores.

MRS. ARTHUR H.

Answer: My advice is to get your husband to go back to work. All he needs is something to do, something to occupy his mind so that he won't have so much leisure to explore his system for symptoms and imagine things being the matter with him.

Lay your case before your family doctor and get him to urge your husband to go back into business.

If he doesn't go back he probably will die, because he will literally think himself sick.

SICK WITH BOREDOM

If you will notice, the men who retire from business seldom live but a few years. The reason for this is that having nothing else to do, they become hypochondriacs.

They fancy they can't eat this and they can't eat that. They get hipped on the idea that they can't do this and they can't do that. Having nothing interesting to do, they do nothing but brood and end up by boring themselves to death.

And Heaven help the wife whose husband retires from business and sits around the house all day with nothing to do but criticize the way she runs it and make suggestions about things he doesn't understand.

Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, OCT. 16, 1948.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—Regular periods for rest and relaxation are essential to good health, a happy mind, surer success. But all in moderation. Today stresses need for rest, sensible pace if working.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Advice to Aries is sound for you and all today. Urgent matters need not be neglected but when work is done, then completely relax, enjoy the many privileges God has bestowed upon us.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini) — Encouraging days for all wholesome interests, especially good for matters requiring mental astuteness, smart advertising, promoting. Care in maritime affairs.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Your aspects stress need for extra caution in important business and unexpected transactions that may require money. It is a good day for reading, journalism, selling, smart advertising.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Not too auspicious now for new or weighty business or undertakings. If your day is free from work, enjoy it mainly but fully. Study, writings, reporting among top galaxes.

August 23 to September 22 (Virgo)—Fine influences for your day whether it calls for work, study or recreation. Smart social affairs for charity and other useful needs in high favor. Attend personal needs.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—In-between sort of day with activities tasking the mental equipment. Not too encouraging for secretive work or maritime interests. Favorable for recreation.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio) A day for moderation in all things. You can have a happy if not too exciting day. Friendly for authoring stories, other writings, study, and healthy pastimes.

November 23 to December 22 (Sagittarius)—May not be all smooth sailing now but with sound planning and preparation you can make a go of tasks at hand. Be amenable to suggestions from intelligent folks.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—If you have a strenuous schedule, take it in stride and without anxiety. Early morning, steady work highly favored. In leisure hours enjoy a pleasant diversion.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Uranus warns you not to be self-complacent nor take chances with new activities if they could jeopardize present other securities. Common sense will give you a happy safe day.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Neptune says be not careless in travel, aquatic sports, handling chemicals, oils, beverages. However, it can be a pleasant and fruitful day in most intelligent matters.

YOU BORN TODAY: Innately refined, gracious, fond of learning and of the finer arts. Librans usually are pleasing in appearance, charming in manners and can remain so if they live true to God's laws. Avoid excesses, save and spend with wisdom. Control a tendency to speculate, spend too freely. Can succeed in a profession or trade; talent for mimicry, entertaining, swaying the public. Excellent judgment, balance, justice and discernment are great assets—use them well. Birthdate: Noah Webster, Amer. lexicographer; Eugene O'Neil, Amer. dramatist.

$20 Million In Gold Produced In NWT

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Almost $20,000,000 worth of gold has been produced in the Northwest Territories since start of mining and 10 years ago, Dr. C. S. Lord of the Dominion Geological Survey office told the 500th annual western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

"Mineral production and exploration is fairly well confined to that part of the Northwest Territory served by bases on Great Slave and Great Bear lakes and the Mackenzie River," he said.

Dr. Lord said that the four current producers (Giant, Negus, Con-Rycon and Thompson Lundmark) recovered bullion valued at about $2,650,000 during the first eight months of this year compared with slightly more than $2,000,000 for all of 1947.

It is estimated that 600,000,000 pounds of seafood are caught by New England fishermen in a normal year.

When age creeps up, one of the first places you get it is in the neck. By correct diet and exercise, you can have a lovely, smooth neck like Actress Marguerite Chapman's.

WHY GROW OLD

Exercise Your Neck For Youthful Contour

By Josephine Lowman

Here comes an exercise which will save your neck from the worst thing that can happen to it outside of hanging, namely, aging!

We sometimes see women of middle age or more who have youthful necklines. Whenever I see one I am extremely rude in asking what she has done to get such lovely results. Usually the sincere compliment softens her opinion of me and she tells me.

If you investigate you will always find sensible reasons for this enviable condition. One can immediately observe good posture, and one usually finds good nutrition and exercises as a background.

All of the women I have interviewed on this subject have engaged in exercise of some sort and skin lubrication. One had a long-established habit of playing the game of blowing a feather about the room, trying to keep it from landing on the floor or furniture.

Another frankly had indulged in neck exercises for years and years and she was in her 70's, and had a remarkably youthful throat.

This all sounds like mumbo jumbo in a way but the exercise results are unquestionable. It is much easier to believe that nothing will make any difference because we can then do nothing with a free conscience.

However, if you are willing to allow a small daily time for self-improvement, mental or physical, the benefits will repay you beautifully.

Lie on the floor on your back. Bend your knees and place your feet flat on the floor. Arms rest on the floor at your sides. Roll your head backward, lifting your neck and shoulders from the floor. Hold a few seconds and return shoulders and neck to the floor. Relax and repeat.

Start doing this only about eight times daily. Gradually increase until you are doing the exercise 25 times daily.

If you would like to have my routine of neck exercises, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 10, "Is Your Chinline A Pain in the Neck?" to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Two Polio Cases Swell Total To 316

Two cases of polio were reported to provincial health authorities Thursday.

Group Discussions Helpful For Mothers

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

There are many good study groups interested in the fast changing complexion of good child care and rearing, who can tap the existing supply of authoritative speakers and make their meetings interesting and provocative.

But, this should not discourage the groups who have no such sources to draw upon and who must depend upon themselves for inspiration and information.

In any group of women with children each has had personal experiences which should be helpful to others. Everyone may bring everything she can find to tell about obedience, or punishment, or feeding problems or sex education and on and on. At the meeting each person may speak on what has happened "to her or what she has "discovered" and let the others criticize, refute or agree, as the case may be. Out of the whole discussion, there will emerge some conclusions which will be acceptable to all of them.

It makes little difference with which subject such groups decide to start. In the end they will all converge on the topics of interest to everyone. It is better to spend a whole winter on obedience, or on sex education and read, discuss, tell personal experiences and argue than to try to cover a wide range of topics and end up with none of them understood or digested.

The women's magazines, the libraries, the government, the newspapers, all offer an assortment of reading material, which will give any group of mothers a body of information upon which they can build. To talk frankly about children in a group will stir up thinking and add to each mother's workable knowledge.

Send for leaflet No. 78 "Help To Be Had From Books," may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Markets Control New Development Of Mineral Fuels

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Future markets should partially control the development of the huge reserves of Alberta's mineral fuels, W. A. Lang of the Alberta Research Council yesterday told delegates attending the 20th annual Western meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

He said Alberta's estimated reserves of coal are 46,562,600,000 tons. In addition Alberta possesses the world's largest deposit of bituminous sand and is the "oil and gas province of Canada."

CSU, Federation Of Ship Owners Extend Contract

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—(CP)—The contract between the Canadian Seamen's Union and the Shipping Federation of Canada, due to terminate today, has been extended through the period of conciliation proceedings, now in progress, Conrad Sauras, spokesman for the union said yesterday.

The dispute hinges on the renewal of the contract between the federation which operates more than 140 deep sea vessels and the union.

Itaoui Trepanier, appointed conciliator by the federal department of labor, was not available for comment.

Best-Dressed Man, A. S. Johnston, Dies

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—Vancouver's "best-dressed man" is dead.

He was Adam Smith Johnston, 60, a pioneer lawyer who came from Huron county, Ontario, as a youth.

Mr. Johnston died in his club Wednesday following a heart seizure.

Admitted to the British Columbia bar in 1910, Mr. Johnston specialized in criminal and corporation law. He was president of the Vancouver Centre Progressive Conservative Association.

Revolver Permits Harder To Get

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Quebec police announced yesterday a tightening-up in the issuing of permits for citizens to carry a revolver for "self-protection."

Deputy director Hilaire Beauregard said the move was due to an increase in the number of accidents involving firearms in the last two years. In future, unless the applicant for a permit can show a weapon is absolutely necessary for his protection, he will be refused.

OIL

2 Woodbend Attempts Fail

By Cecil Jackman

Both of the wells completed to date on parcels of land obtained from the Crown at Woodbend auctions have been abandoned according to word from the field. The holes involved were drilled by Phillips Petroleum and the British American Oil Company and neither obtained a showing of oil in horizons down to and including the D3 zone.

Phillips well was drilled as a southwest offset to Continental Leduc Woodbend No. 3 which is producing from the lower Cretaceous. The British-American well completed at 5,400 feet on 7-51-26.

The rig from the Phillips location has been set up to drill Continental Leduc Woodbend No. 4, an east offset to the company's No. 3 well, and will probably spud in today. The Regent rig that drilled the B-A well is being torn out and will be moved to the B-A Lion Oil location southwest of the proven Leduc field.

The Continental No. 9 well, northern offset of D2 production from Continental No. 8, will be started as soon as Northern Development Company gets the new rig delivered from the United States.

ATLANTIC STILL STUBBORN

Atlantic No. 3 is still baffling the experts. Water injection through the west relief well was resumed this morning after having been halted for several days while attempts to plug the hole through south relief were made. Quantities of shale and quick setting cement were injected through the south hole with no apparent effect.

Imperial's St. Albert No. 1 wildcat on the outskirts of Edmonton is down around 1,000 feet. The various horizons at this hole will be found at depths similar to those of the Leduc field.

STANOLIND AT BARRHEAD

Stanolind Oil and Gas Company's first location in Alberta will be in the vicinity of Barrhead. The location, lsd 15 10-58-5 W5th, is on land seismographed by Imperial Oil which will share in any production obtained.

When Imperial Leduc No. 86 was put on production last weekend with a potential of 2,530 barrels daily the company had 100 wells producing in the Leduc and Woodbend fields. Two more wells since that time have swelled the total to 102 successful completions. The long list of successes is broken by only three failures, two in Leduc and one in the Woodbend field.

Livestock

Trade is winding up fairly active with prices in line with the week's decline of 1.00 per cwt. Normal fresh receipts plus Thursday's carryover of about 600 head, leaves a sizeable number for today's trade. The run is made up of a big percentage of plain stocker type cattle, which are slow to move under a weak country demand. Most of this class have to be sold as boners. The major packers were showing somewhat more interest this morning and prospects are for a fair week-end clearance.

The bulk of steers traded at 15.00-18.00, a few better end butchers 19.00-20.00. Heifers are largely of the common type and most sales were 15.00-17.00, odd good killers up to 18.00. Cows are in good demand, good lights 14.00-15.00, a few heifer-ettes up to 15.30. Heavy cows 13.00-14.50. Bulls 15.00-18.00. Veal calves steady, choice handyweights 19.00-21.00. Hogs, grade A for shipment 34.50, grade O at plants 30.25.

Stockers and feeders were in firm demand at slightly easier prices on the top end. Prices were fully steady. Short keep steers 18.00-19.00 per cwt., good stock steers 15.00-17.50, plain 10.00-14.50. Stock heifers 12.00-14.00 per cwt. Stock cows 11.00-12.00.

Veal calves, steady. Choice handyweights 15.00-17.00 per cwt., odd ones 18.00. Heavies 16.00-20.00, common kinds 12.00-17.00.

Hogs. Grade A for shipment 34.50 per cwt. Grade A at plants 30.25 per cwt. Sows lightweight on yards 21.00 per cwt. Feeder hogs 22.00-25.00 per cwt., according to Lambs. Good to choice local handyweights 18.00-19.00. Off cars up to 20.00 per cwt. Buck lambs discounted 1.00 to 2.00 per cwt. Yearlings 7.00-9.00 per cwt. Light ewes 5.00-7.00 per cwt. Medium ewes 4.00-5.00 per cwt. Feeder classes were in good demand quoted from 10.00-15.00 per cwt.

The following are the quotations:

Choice fed calves	19.00 to 20.00
Choice steers	20.00 to 21.00
Good steers	18.00 to 19.00
Medium steers	16.00 to 17.00
Fair Steers	14.00 to 15.00
Common Steers	11.00 to 13.00
Choice heifers	17.50 to 19.00
Good heifers	16.00 to 17.00
Medium heifers	15.00 to 15.75
Fair heifers	12.00 to 14.00
Common heifers	10.00 to 11.00
Good light cows	14.00 to 15.00
Good heavy cows	13.00 to 14.50
Fair to medium cows	12.00 to 13.00
Common cows	11.00 to 11.50
Canners and cutters	9.00 to 11.00
Bulls	12.00 to 18.00

Industrials Show Mixed Gains; Western Oils Slightly Lower

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Prices were irregularly mixed as trading slackened on the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Industrials mixed gains and losses in a narrow fractional range and junior golds showed a slightly easier tone. Losses edged out gains in the base metals and western oils dipped quietly. Volume was about 652,000 shares.

Papers dipped in industrials and a few steels showed an easier tone. Foods were mixed and B.A. Oil and Canadian Oil advanced in the refining oils. Consumers Gas and Winnipeg Electric gained in an easier utilities list.

TRADING INCREASES ON CALGARY MARKET

CALGARY, Oct. 15.—Activity on the oil market revived today with news of new developments in the industry. Sales skyrocketed to 147,066 from Thursday's total of 106,088 shares. Price gains were fairly general across the board.

High, low, and noon sales of some of the leaders: Atlantic 52, 51½, 2,500; Central Leduc 63, 62½, 10,500; Calmont Leduc 19½, 19, 6,500; Decalta 16½, 12,200; Princess 18¾, 18¼, 37,500; New Ranchman's 7¼, 21,000; South Brazeau 15, 14½, 6,300.

Waterloo Acquires Medico Welders

Sale of Medico Welders and Body Works, located at intersection of 101 street and Kingsway, was announced today by Fred Sawchuk, president of that firm.

Purchaser is J. A. Christiansen on behalf of the Waterloo Enterprises consisting of Waterloo Machinery (Alberta) Limited, Waterloo Motors Limited and Waterloo Industries Limited, all established Edmonton business concerns.

Mr. Christiansen states that additional property is being acquired near the premises recently purchased to provide a greater and more complete service for Edmonton and district. It is the intention to continue in the same field as has been pursued by Medico Welders, but on a larger scale.

Richfield Oil Leaves Texas

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 15.—(AP)—Richfield Oil Co. is pulling out of Texas and plans to do the same later in New Mexico.

The company Thursday said it is selling all its Texas oil and gas leases totalling 68,000 acres to highest cash bidders, and expects to sell some 315,000 acres of undeveloped land in New Mexico shortly.

No reason was given for the sale. No production is involved in either state.

Coarse Grains Climb With Rye Setting Pace

WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Rye led an upturn in grain futures in trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. There was local demand supplemented by occasional shipper support which found offerings light. There was some increase of offerings at top levels and extreme gains were not held.

Oats and barley showed a steady trend, with shipper buying in oats and processor and shipper demand in barley. Trading was more active in rye than in oats. The United Kingdom was allocated 250,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian agreement in export business reported.

Prices of class two wheat were increased three cents from Thursday.

Canada Said 2nd Richest Nation

Per Capita Income Held Seven Time's Russia's

PARIS, Oct. 14.—(CP)—Senator Wishart Robertson said tonight he left the United Nations chamber with a "lump in my throat" after 57 countries tacitly agreed Canada is second only to the United States as the most prosperous country in the world.

GIVES RADIO REPORT

Reporting by radio on the "dollars and cents" side of United Nations activities, the government leader in the Canadian senate said the United Nations Committee on Contributions had agreed in effect: "You Canadians have a higher per capita income than any country in the world except the United States and possibly Sweden and you should contribute accordingly."

Robertson was speaking in a speech recorded for rebroadcast in Canada over the CBC national network. Under the United Nations budget, he said, Canada with 13,000,000 people is assessed 3.0 per cent compared with 6.31 per cent for Russia's 185,000,000 population.

SAYS RUSSIA AGREES

"This means the committee believes, and Russia agrees that the Canadian income per capita is seven times greater than that of Russia."

From the standpoint of geographical resources, Canada and Russia are similar. Russia boasted great progress, but yet admitted Canadians enjoy a per-capita income seven times greater.

"Perhaps," he said, "some people in Canada who want to change our way of life for that of the Soviet might profit by considering some of the lessons learned by our budgetary committee."

Robertson is the Canadian delegate on the budgetary committee. The chairman is L. Dana Wilgress, Canadian ambassador to Switzerland.

Among the ancient Hebrews, a grain of salt or the eggs of grasshoppers were recommended as remedies for toothache.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD.—(AP)—The gal with the most famous figure in the world tells how to save yours: Dance!

"I've found the best way to take off weight is to dance," said Betty Grable, "the beautiful blonde from bashful bend." No catch phrase that but the name of her current film.

"About 10 years ago, I started putting on a little weight in places, because I hadn't been dancing. So I took a few acrobatic lessons and the poundage came off in no time."

Betty assured that any kind of dancing will help.

"It's important to start dancing when you're young," she added. "I began taking four lessons a week when I was five. It helps you in more ways than just your figure. Dancing gives you grace. Because I started it early, I never went through the awkward age."

As for dieting, Betty says she doesn't do too much.

"If I get a bit heavy, I can stop eating for two days and the weight goes down immediately."

The girl who puts on Betty's makeup had an interesting commentary on the famed frame. "Everyone talks about Betty's figure," she said, "but no one mentions her feet. She's got perfect feet."

"Night has 1,000 Eyes (Par) gets off some good hocus-pocus, but bogs down with a sloppy finish. An arresting tale of a reluctant soothsayer (Edward G. Robinson) who foretells dire events, it came close to being a topnotch thriller. John Lund and Gail Russell supply the romance.

Uniformity Urged For Assessment

Edmonton Objects to Plan At Municipal Meet

CALGARY, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Delegates to the Union of Alberta Municipalities Convention yesterday voiced overwhelming approval of a uniform 100 percent assessment of buildings and improvements throughout the province.

Delegates from Edmonton, Lethbridge and Calgary objected to the suggestion, which is one of the recommendations of the Judge report on provincial-municipal taxation.

Ald. A. W. Shackleford of Lethbridge said the Alberta government is determined to enforce a uniform policy, but is not so concerned with the percentage. J. P. Evans of Athabasca said increased assessment probably would be offset by a lower mill rate with the total tax remaining the same.

VOTING AGE DEBATED

J. H. Galbraith, of Ponoka, secretary-treasurer of the union, reported that of the 130 cities, towns and villages affiliated with the union, 21 have taken a stand against reduction of the voting age for municipal elections. Seventeen favored reduction. Of the 17 favoring reduction, nine suggested 18 years as the voting age, seven favored 19 years and one favored 20. The remainder said it should be unchanged at 21.

A resolution submitted by the town of Ponoka was approved by the 113 delegates attending the gathering. The resolution asked that the provincial government be urged to amend the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act to make it mandatory for all owners of motor vehicles to equip their vehicles with mufflers "which effectively silence their exhausts."

MANNING TO SPEAK

Premier E. C. Manning will address the convention Friday afternoon and is expected to make an important statement on exactly what the province is prepared to do by way of implementing the Judge report.

With some general qualification the government promised in the recent election campaign to adopt the report.

An amended resolution from the City of Calgary called on the provincial government to take "appropriate and effective measures to deal with juvenile first offenders in the province."

WAITRESSES KEY TO MEAL PRICES

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—(CP)—The fate of the restaurant business may rest in the hands of the girl who brings you your coffee.

Operators attending lectures on restaurant efficiency here yesterday said prices may come down if waitresses "smarten up" and take an interest in their work.

TIMES PRAISES ST. LAURENT

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(CP) — The Times today welcomes Louis St. Laurent, acting prime minister of Canada, to the Commonwealth talks as one who has "earned the respect of his fellow countrymen."

"He has practical experience in Canada's own industrial and social development," the newspaper says in an editorial.

"And his record helps to put out of date the phrase 'French-Canadian.' He is a French-speaking Canadian certainly, but a Canadian first and foremost.

"His counsel will be of the greatest worth in the meetings."

Girl's Body Found In Bow River

BANFF, Alta., Oct. 15.—(CP)—Body of four-year-old Sheila Margaret Brenton of Drumheller, Alta., was found along the bank of the Bow River near Johnson's canyon yesterday. The youngster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brenton of Drumheller, drowned July 30 when a boat capsized in the river about ½ mile upstream from the point where her body was found. Her parents and a brother, also in the boat when it capsized, reached shore safely.

Patrons Burn Film House Screen

COLOMBO, Ceylon, Oct. 15.—(Reuters)—The first showing of the film "The Iron Curtain" in a movie house here last night was interrupted by a fire which burned down the screen after combustible material had been thrown at it.

Israeli Police To Train In N.Y.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The Israeli government will send "key personnel" of its police department here for training in the New York city police department academy. Six men are expected to arrive from Israel within the next month.

Russia Has 100,000 Germans as Police

BONN, Germany, Oct. 15.—(AP)—A Moscow-trained force of 100,000 former German war prisoners is carrying out special police duties in the Russian zone, the escaped deputy mayor of Leipzig said yesterday.

Josef Eichelbaum, a Conservative Christian Democratic party member, said the force has no connection, however, with the German army of Field Marshal Friedrich von Paulus.

Reports printed in the western-licensed German press recently have said a police force of up to 300,000 was being raised from among the soldiers of von Paulus, captured at Stalingrad.

Eichelbaum, one of a score or more eastern zone political leaders who have sought refuge in western Germany, was asked in an interview if he had heard anything about the "rumored army of Gen. von Paulus."

"No, I haven't seen anything and I don't believe these reports," he replied. "It is right, however, that there is a special police force in the eastern zone.

Deaths Yesterday

By The Canadian Press

MONTREAL.—George Godfrey Dillon Lawrence, 60, a sports columnist for 25 years and former assistant sports editor of the Montreal Herald.

MONTREAL — Mrs. Rodolphe Lemieux, 76, widow of Senator Lemieux and daughter of the late Sir Louis Jette, former lieutenant-governor of Quebec.

The women of the Middle Ages wore brooches of the ring type, in which the pin was held in place by the fabric through which it passed.

Saskatoon Editor Resigns Position

SASKATOON, Oct. 15.—(CP)—R. M. Canlon, publisher of the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix, announced yesterday he has received "with regret" the resignation of H. T. Richardson, editor of the Star-Phoenix for the last two years. Mr. Richardson is leaving for Ottawa at the end of October.

Hobby Pays Off

TYRELL, Ont. Oct. 15.—(CP)—A hobby that pays was started 10 years ago by Steve Nyitray, a Norfolk county farmer, who will turn out between 2,000 and 2,500 "custom-built" brooms this winter—the product of six acres of broom corn on his farm near here.

CIO's Cold War Warms Up In N.Y.

The melee occurred at a hearing called by CIO president Philip Murray into right-wing charges that the greater New York city CIO council has failed to support the CIO policy of endorsing President Truman.

L. S. Buckmaster, chairman of the hearing, said the fighting began when Sam Burt, a vice-president of the New York council, insisted on questioning a witness.

13 Polio Victims

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Greater Vancouver's poliomyelitis total rose to 13 yesterday with confirmation of a North Vancouver teen age youth as a victim.

Unskilled Workers Warned No Jobs Waiting at Coast

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Don't go west, young man, unless you have a little capital.

This in effect, was the advice issued today by Arthur MacNamara, deputy labor minister. Mr. MacNamara said in a statement that "unless you are convinced you have something to offer to the development of one of the newer parts of Canada, stay away from British Columbia for the time being."

The deputy said it would be doing a real injustice to the Canadian pioneering spirit "which is far from dead" and one of the most enterprising provinces if he were to presume to warn against migration to B.C.

"However, a general warning is necessary since the number of job seekers exceeds the number of job openings in this region, and it is not the place today for the worker with no particular enterprise, skill or ability, or willingness to work in outlying districts."

According to a report of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, the unemployment index is higher in the Pacific region than in any other region of Canada.

While only four percent of the labor force is seeking employment on the Pacific Coast, there is an unduly high proportion of unskilled workers and older workers among the unplaced applicants, Mr. MacNamara said.

Mr. MacNamara urged that those contemplating a move to the coast should assess their abilities before committing themselves to such a step. The labor market there might be considered to be "temporarily saturated" as for as unskilled labor was concerned, or even for skilled labor in many occupations.

MAY-DEC. ROMANCE ENDS UP IN COURT

Ronnie, who was arrested in a downtown hotel with Mrs. Faye Brody Kahn, told Judge A. A. Scott:

"I don't care what you do with me, but please let her go for the sake of her children."

"That's noble of you," said the judge, "but you had better start thinking about your own future."

Mrs. Kahn waived preliminary hearing on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor. Ronnie was placed on probation.

Two Vets' Board Employes Slain

BUFFALO, (N.Y., Oct. 15.—(AP)—Two employes of the United States Veterans Administration were shot to death yesterday by a disgruntled veteran. They were Milton A. Jacobs, about 43, chairman of the V.A. Unemployment Service Rating Board and Emmett S. Crowe, about 60, a guard. Police said the veteran, Bernard V. Lembis, 47, admitted the double slaying.

City Official Dies

VANCOUVER, Oct. 15.—(CP)—James L. Armstrong, 62, Vancouver city treasurer for the last 11 years, died yesterday following a heart attack.

Civil Servants Of Australia Will Take Oath

SYDNEY, Australia, Oct. 15 (CP)—A bill introduced today in the Australian House of Representatives would make it compulsory for all permanent members of the government service to take an oath of allegiance or affirmation to the King and to uphold the country's constitution.

It is interpreted here as the outcome of political feeling over dismissal of the United States government to reveal certain top secret defence plans. The United States reportedly feared they might leak out to potential enemies through alleged Communists.

Railman Killed

CHATHAM, Ont., Oct. 15.—(CP)—Conductor Joseph Gilchrist, 39, of Windsor, was killed here last night when he fell beneath a boxcar at the Canadian National Railways Lacroix street crossing.

Aliens To Register

KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 15.—(CP)—All aliens in Jamaica were ordered today to register with police. No explanation for the order was given.

Wholesalers Cannot Reduce Lumber Price

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—(CP)—H. R. MacMillan yesterday told the Prices Commission that there was no way by which his group of lumber companies could get lumber to the Canadian consumer at less than market prices.

If the MacMillan interests decided to sell lumber at reduced prices in Canada because of its heavy export profits the ultimate domestic buyer would not get the saving, he said.

The group of companies which he heads produces five per cent of all Canadian and 14 per cent of all Pacific coast lumber.

ACCEPTS OPPOSITION

The question arose when H. A. Dyde, KC, the commission's counsel, invited Mr. MacMillan to explain why present lumber prices were necessary in view of his company's large profits.

Mr. MacMillan accepted the proposition quickly and asked the commission to suppose the company, because of its export profits, decided to sell lumber to Canadian buyers at reduced prices. He also asked the commission to suppose that the firm's 3,000 shareholders had agreed to such a policy.

"Suppose," Mr. MacMillan continued, "we did declare a dividend to the Canadian consumer from the earnings of the company on its other business.

"To do any good the saving would have to reach the ultimate consumer—there was no point in subsidizing distributors already doing well.

SEES NO SOLUTION

He had already testified that when price controls were removed from lumber the company tried an experiment and kept its domestic prices below the current market level.

"We found that selling to the retailer at lesser prices than other mills was having the effect of increasing the retailers' profit without doing anyone any good," Mr. MacMillan continued.

19th Polio Victim Reported Today

Death of a nine-year-old boy from Athabasca, reported today, brought the polio death toll in Alberta to 19 for this year, according to officials of the department of health.

The case was one of four reported today to bring to 320 the number of cases of the disease since the first of the year.

AMA To Meet In Calgary

Representatives from Edmonton, Calgary and Lethbridge will attend the annual convention of the Alberta Motor Association at Calgary, Nov. 6.

Meeting will hear branch reports and consider policy for the coming year.

United Nations Day To Be Observed

Edmonton schools and churches will observe United Nations Day, slated for Oct. 24.

Announcement of local observations of the day, making the anniversary of the implementing of the UN charter, was made by Dr. W. D. McDougall, president of the Edmonton branch of the United Nations Association.

Epidemic Deaths

TOKYO, Oct. 15.—(AP)—The welfare ministry said today 1,088 Japanese died of sleeping sickness during the epidemic last summer.

Italy Facing Strike Threat

ROME, Oct. 15. — (AP) — The Italian government, faced with a Communist threat of a general strike, attempted today to forestall imminent walkouts by transport workers and movie operators.

A strike of bus, short-haul railroad, streetcar and ferry-boat operators has been set for Monday.

The labor ministry called representatives of the union and the municipally-owned transport systems to a meeting today to try to reopen negotiations. The breakdown of negotiations brought the Monday strike call.

They had a promise of support from Italy's Communist labor chief, Giuseppe di Vittorio, who threatened a general strike of his General Labor Confederation's 7,000,000 members unless the government grants the demands of the state workers.

Dispatches from Milan reported several walkouts, one affecting 2,500 workers, as a result of dismissals of employees or union jurisdictional squabbles.

Sawyer Injured Near Rimbey

According to a report received here today by RCMP a saw mill worker at Rimbey, Alta., approximately 80 miles southwest of Edmonton, has been seriously injured.

Taken to hospital at Ponoka, 72 miles south of the city, was Albert Krause, son of Herman Krause of Rimbey, who was involved in an accident in the saw mill near Rimbey.

Searchers Find Body Of Airman Killed In Crash

HALIFAX, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Search parties last night found the body of Lieut. J. S. Berge of Vancouver, killed when his navy Sea Fury fighter crashed yesterday 2½ miles from base here.

Lieut. Berge, son of Mrs. V. Berge of Vancouver, was on a training exercise when his engine apparently failed. He radioed that he was going to make a crash landing.

The Sea Fury was smashed to bits and the body was found lying near it. The plane did not burn.

Mackenzie King Still Resting At London Hotel

Girl Suicides

LAKEVIEW, Ont., Oct. 15.—(CP)—Joan Carter, 14-year-old public school student in this Peel County community, was found dead in her home yesterday. Police said they found a suicide note to her parents. Gas jets of the kitchen stove were on.

3 IN FAMILY HAVE POLIO

CALGARY, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Dr. W. H. Hill, city health officer, yesterday disclosed that three members of one family in the Oyen, Alta., district have contracted poliomyelitis within a week.

The crippling disease claimed the life of Rosie Hertz, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Hertz of New Bridgen near Oyen yesterday. Today Rosie's 15-year-old brother and an older sister arrived in hospital, both suffering from polio.

Dr. Hill said it was unusual to find polio attacking through a family and that three cases in one family was very rare.

Nine Divorces Granted Here

The decrees were granted to: Edith M. Weist from Frank J. Weist; Ada B. Bennett from George E. Bennett; Dorothy I. Hoffman from Lawrence Hoffman; John Lermo from Olga C. Lermo; Mary Brown-off from Alex Brownoff.

Drew To Address New York Forum

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Premier George Drew of Ontario will address the 17th annual Forum of the New York Herald Tribune Oct. 28, it was announced yesterday. The newly-elected leader of the Dominion's Progressive Conservative party will speak on the United Nations.

Russian Claim

LONDON, Oct. 15. — (AP) — A Moscow radio commentator said last night the United States is "preparing a Norwegian airport near Stavanger for the landing of American Superfortresses."

BRIDGE

Forced to Play With Trump Void

By William E. McKenney

All bridge players talk about the peculiar things that happen in their game, whether it is in a little afternoon bridge club or in a world championship event. Perhaps one of the strangest hands ever played in a world championship match took place in Chicago last August.

R. W. Halpin, of Chicago, one of the organizers of the American Auctian Bridge League, was paired up with Oswald Jacoby, of Dallas, Tex. You can imagine Halpin's surprise when he found himself playing a contract of six hearts in the final round of the world championship team-of-four contest, without a heart in his hand.

Jacoby's bid of four no trump was the Blackwood bid asking Halpin to show aces. With one ace Halpin would have bid five diamonds. With two aces he was forced to bid five hearts—and Jacoby bid six hearts.

One of the strangest things about it was that if the clubs had been divided three-three, or if Jacoby had held the seven of spades instead of the four-spot, the contract could have been made. With the clubs divided three-three, Halpin could have established the clubs, picked up the hearts, and then discarded spades on the clubs, losing only one spade trick. And he would have lost only one spade trick if Jacoby had had the seven instead of the four of spades.

The loss of the match gave the eastern team consisting of George Rapee, Howard Schenken and Samuel Stayman of Atlanta, the world championship team-of-four title. The Chicago team of Arthur Glatt, R. W. Halpin, Ralph Kempner, Jules Bank and Oswald Jacoby had to be satisfied with second place.

Toronto . . . physically, a city of toweringly majestic skyscrapers . . . shadowy canyons . . . bustling vehicles and bee-busy streets . . . of vast warehouses and superbly designed stores. Dotting the landscape are multi-acred parks, squares and beaches. Torontonians pride themselves on the loveliness of their homes . . . the tree-shaded quiet of residential districts. It houses over 850,000 civic-conscious citizens. It is the acknowledged industrial city of Canada and a vital rail centre. There are nature-rich parks . . . great educational institutions, a superb symphony orchestra, and, of course, the internationally famed Canadian National Exhibition. And there is so much more for which there isn't space. But, ask any Torontonian for further details: You'll get them, for they are proud, and justly so, of their city.

U.K. Movie Houses Ban Hecht's Work

LONDON, Oct. 15.—(AP)—British film exhibitors have decided to boycott the work of Ben Hecht, American writer-producer, because of what they term his anti-British attitude on the Palestine question.

The Cinema Exhibitors Association, representing nearly 5,000 movie houses, adopted a resolution yesterday asking film distributors to "withdraw from circulation in Britain any films with which Hecht was associated."

Association members will be told to cancel future bookings of pictures in which Hecht has a hand.

MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Mrs. Rodolphe Lemieux, widow of Senator Lemieux and daughter of the late Sir Louis Jette, former lieutenant-governor of Quebec, died at her home here Wednesday. She was 76.

Coal Outlook Here Shows More Promise

Coal situation in Edmonton will be "favorable" this winter and no hardships will be experienced by consumers if they order their coal a "little in advance."

This was the general opinion in a survey made today of several Edmonton coal companies on the outlook for the coming winter.

Shipping accommodations are limited and more miners are needed at the present time, but coal companies say they will not have much difficulty in supplying the needs of Edmonton people this winter "if they will only order their coal a little in advance."

Proprietor of one coal company said the shortage of box cars has caused deliveries to be delayed, but stated that he expects, with the grain rush over, that this situation will be relieved shortly.

He added, however, that he could not depend on shipments into Edmonton when the cold weather sets in and for this reason orders should be placed ahead of time.

One coal company said it has had no difficulty in filling orders promptly so far, but fears that if consumers don't take precautions to order ahead of time, when the cold weather hits it will provide a big problem.

Another company said the situation was not so bright. It has had difficulty in obtaining miners and the company was about a month behind with deliveries.

Sawyer Injured Near Rimbey

According to a report received here today by RCMP a saw mill worker at Rimbey, Alta., approximately 80 miles southwest of Edmonton, has been seriously injured.

Taken to hospital at Ponoka, 72 miles south of the city, was Albert Krause, son of Herman Krause of Rimbey, who was involved in an accident in the saw mill near Rimbey.

Searchers Find Body Of Airman Killed In Crash

HALIFAX, Oct. 15.—(CP)—Search parties last night found the body of Lieut. J. S. Berge of Vancouver, killed when his navy Sea Fury fighter crashed yesterday 2½ miles from base here.

Lieut. Berge, son of Mrs. V. Berge of Vancouver, was on a training exercise when his engine apparently failed. He radioed that he was going to make a crash landing.

The Sea Fury was smashed to bits and the body was found lying near it. The plane did not burn.

Mackenzie King Still Resting At London Hotel

"You can say that the word on his condition continues to be good," a member of his staff said today.

Girl Suicides

LAKEVIEW, Ont., Oct. 15.—(CP)—Joan Carter, 14-year-old public school student in this Peel County community, was found dead in her home yesterday. Police said they found a suicide note to her parents. Gas jets of the kitchen stove were on.

Russian Claim

LONDON, Oct. 15. — (AP) — A Moscow radio commentator said last night the United States is "preparing a Norwegian airport near Stavanger for the landing of American Superfortresses."

BRIDGE

By William E. McKenney

All bridge players talk about the peculiar things that happen in their game, whether it is in a little afternoon bridge club or in a world championship event. Perhaps one of the strangest hands ever played in a world championship match took place in Chicago last August.

R. W. Halpin, of Chicago, one of the organizers of the American Auctian Bridge League, was paired up with Oswald Jacoby, of Dallas, Tex. You can imagine Halpin's surprise when he found himself playing a contract of six hearts in the final round of the world championship team-of-four contest, without a heart in his hand.

Jacoby's bid of four no trump was the Blackwood bid asking Halpin to show aces. With one ace Halpin would have bid five diamonds. With two aces he was forced to bid five hearts—and Jacoby bid six hearts.

One of the strangest things about it was that if the clubs had been divided three-three, or if Jacoby had held the seven of spades instead of the four-spot, the contract could have been made. With the clubs divided three-three, Halpin could have established the clubs, picked up the hearts, and then discarded spades on the clubs, losing only one spade trick. And he would have lost only one spade trick if Jacoby had had the seven instead of the four of spades.

The loss of the match gave the eastern team consisting of George Rapee, Howard Schenken and Samuel Stayman of Atlanta, the world championship team-of-four title. The Chicago team of Arthur Glatt, R. W. Halpin, Ralph Kempner, Jules Bank and Oswald Jacoby had to be satisfied with second place.
